RBI mulls delayed digital transfers above ₹10K

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has proposed a set of new safeguards for digital payments as it looks to curb a sharp rise in online frauds. At the core of the proposals is the introduction of a mandatory time lag for authorised push payment (APP) transactions above Rs 10,000. Such transactions would be delayed by up to one hour at the payer's end, allowing customers to cancel transfers during this cooling-off window | P15

Race to secure energy supplies amid ceasefire

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

IN a diplomatic push amid shifting geopolitical currents in West Asia, India has dispatched two senior ministers to the Gulf, leveraging the narrow opening created by the US-Iran ceasefire. Petroleum and Natural Gas Minister Hardeep Singh Puri arrived in Qatar on Thursday for a two-day visit, while External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar is scheduled to visit the United Arab Emirates from April 11 to 12.

Puri's visit to Qatar reflects India's urgency to stabilise vital supply lines as regional tensions disrupt established trade flows. A key energy partner, Qatar's role has come into sharper focus amid shipping uncertainties, with discussions expected to 'prioritise reliability and continuity of supplies' rather than routine engagement, officials pointed out.

India's energy security is tied to West Asia, as half of the natural gas demand is met by LNG imports—55 % of which transit through the Strait of Hormuz, which has become a chokepoint during the war. Qatar is the single largest supplier, contributing 40% of India's LNG imports (11.2 million tonnes in 2024-25, met through long-term deals with QatarEnergy as well as spot purchases).

Dependence is similarly high for LPG, with imports meeting 60% of the demand and 90% of which also pass through Hormuz and Qatar again is the leading supplier. QatarEnergy's declaration of force majeure has disrupted supply commitments. Along with Indian envoy to Qatar, Vipul, Qatar Energy officials too was present to receive Puri on his arrival.

India's diplomatic outreach is also anchored in protecting its vast diaspora and reinforcing strategic ties in a region that has become volatile. Over 10 million Indians reside across the Gulf, making their welfare a central concern.

Democracy wins with record voting

@ T'Puram/ Guwahati & Pondy

EXTREMELY high voter enthusiasm became the main talking point across Kerala, Assam and Puducherry, which went to polls on Thursday, giving all major players bragging rights to anticipate a good outcome.

Kerala recorded its fourth-best tally at 78.22%, with all three fronts — the Left Democratic Front (LDF), the United Democratic Front (UDF) and the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) — claiming the surge reflected a mandate in their favour. The state had seen higher turnouts in 1960 (85.70%), 1987 (80.53%) and 1977 (79.20%). The previous assembly election, which broke a four-decade-long trend of voting out incumbent governments, had recorded a turnout of 74.02%.

The Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, which reduced the total number of voters in the state by a little over seven lakh, appears to have had a bearing on the voting percentage. Constituencies that had recorded some of the lowest voter participation in 2021 — particularly in Thiruvananthapuram's urban areas — witnessed a marked rise in polling, with increases ranging between 7 and 11 percentage points.

In Assam, the voter turnout at 8 pm stood at 85.51%, better than 82.42% in 2021 and 84.72% in 2016. The final tally is expected to creep up further. The ruling BJP and the Congress were upbeat after the unprecedented turnout on a rain-soaked day when polling was by and large peaceful. In 2016, the NDA had wrested power by dislodging the 15-year-old Congress government.

Pointing out that the voter participation at many polling booths had crossed 95%, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma described it as historic. His bete noire and Assam Congress president, Gaurav Gogoi, was equally optimistic. He expressed gratitude to people for turning out in "unprecedented numbers to vote for a change".

Puducherry saw its highest-ever voter turnout of 89.87%; the previous highest of 85.57% was recorded in 2011, when N Rangasamy led the All India NR Congress (AINRC) to power. He was back in the saddle after the NDA wrested power in the 2021 polls. P9, 12

TDP backs women's bill, says South won't lose out on delimitation

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN a significant endorsement of the Centre's push to pass the amendments to the Women's Reservation Bill, the NDA's key ally Telugu Desam Party (TDP) on Thursday dismissed concerns that the South would be disadvantaged by the proposed delimitation exercise, asserting that a proportional increase in Lok Sabha seats would maintain the existing balance of representation.

Speaking to this paper, TDP parliamentary party leader Lavu Krishna Devarayalu said that with a proposed 50% expansion in Lok Sabha strength, the relative share of each state would remain unchanged. "After the increase, the percentage of a state's representation in the Lok Sabha will stay the same. For instance, Kerala now accounts for 3.6% of the total 543 seats in Lok Sabha. After a 50% increase, Kerala will retain the same percentage with 30 seats," he said, dispelling fears of political marginalisation in the South.

His remarks come amid mounting Opposition criticism that the proposed changes linked to the rollout of the Women's Reservation bill could widen the gap between the more populous northern states and their southern counterparts.

Opposition parties have argued that states like UP would gain disproportionately, increasing the seat differential with states such as Tamil Nadu and potentially diluting the South's influence in Parliament.

Dismissing allegations of inadequate consultation with the opposition, Devarayalu said they were given ample opportunity to present their views.

HEATWAVE ALERT FOR CITY AS MERCURY SOARS

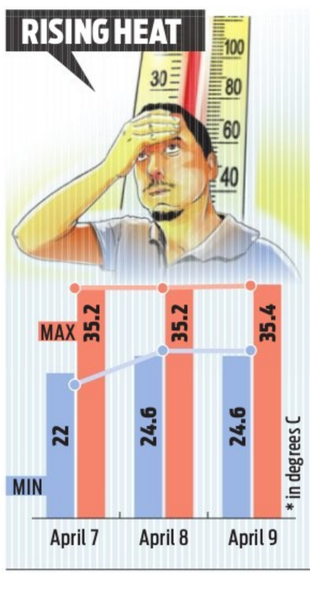
While max temp in Bengaluru around 35°C, minimum 20°C; Stay indoors, advise doctors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Bengaluru District Disaster Management Authority, working under the District Administration, has issued a heatwave warning and heat stroke-like conditions, following an alert from the India Meteorological Department.

The warning comes amidst the rising city temperature for the last three days, as the maximum temperature was hovering around 35 degrees celsius. Interestingly, the minimum degree celsius in the city was also over 20 degrees.

According to a release, since heatwave stroke is likely to have an adverse effect on the health of the public, the District Disaster Management Authority issued advice to the public to maintain their health. Following the increase in temperature, the DC appealed to the public to check the temperature status from various media and take precautions to beat the heat.



Measures to beat the heat

- Avoid wearing dark or tight clothing
- Avoid strenuous activities when the outside temperature rises
- Use fans as much as possible
- Take frequent cold baths and make the time for bathing in cold water as long as possible
- Consume watermelon and oranges, pineapple, cucumber, coconut water and more
- Avoid cooking during the hot weather
- Open doors and windows to ventilate the kitchen area properly
- Avoid consuming alcohol, tea, coffee and drinks that dehydrate the body
- Avoid consuming harmful and stale food
- Avoid going out without wearing footwear

"Drink as much water as possible, even if you are not thirsty. Wear thin, loose cotton clothes. It is good to use white clothes as much as possible. Use protective glasses, hats, shoes or footwear when going out in the sun. It is better to travel long distances at night, and carry water while travelling. If you are working outside, use a hat or umbrella and also use a wet cloth on your head, neck, face and limbs. Use homemade drinks like lassi. Sherbat, lemon water, buttermilk, etc., which will help in re-cooling the body. Keep animals/birds in shade and give them plenty of water to drink," the Authority advised.

The authority also appealed to give extra attention to pregnant women, newborn babies, senior citizens and young children. "People with health problems, especially those suffering from heart disease and high blood pressure should be more careful. And those working outside between 12 and 3 pm should be more careful and must try to avoid venturing out during this time," the authority stated through a release.

K-100 turns cesspool even before launch, ₹179 crore down waterway

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

THE erstwhile Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and now Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA), which went about chest-thumping over its Rs 179-crore K-100 waterway-cum-walkway project from Shantala Silks in Majestic to Koramangala in BTM assembly constituency, has instead delivered the longest cesspool, courtesy BWSSB.

Residents along the project route, covering 12km, are complaining about a stench and mosquito menace. The waterway project, that involved treated water flowing through, was to open in January 2025, but it's already April 2026.

The K-100 water channel resembles a drain due to inflow of sewage | EXPRESS

Bhaskar Babu, a wholesale flower dealer who has his shop adjacent to the waterway near BTS Road in Wilson Garden, said, "A bad smell emanates most of the time and mosquitoes starts buzzing early evening, and till the closing hours of the shop, we have to tolerate nasty bites."

A Salma, a resident of Vinayak Nagar which is adjacent to the waterway, said there are aged persons at home with comorbidities, and the family is worried about infection, allergy, and mosquito-borne diseases. "The water channel has sewage flowing through. There is also garbage menace, with people throwing in waste and filth. The authorities must clean up the channel and arrest sewage inflow on priority."

Engineers from the Stormwater Drain Department of GBA said an inspection was held on Thursday, and officials from Bengaluru Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) have asked GBA to give permission to cut open a white-topped road in SR Nagar to fix sewage flowing into the waterway.

"The K-100 project completion is in its end stage. Near Ejipura, the defence organisation was in possession of a drain and raised objections to civil works. Communication for cooperation was sent out from the GBA Chief Commissioner, and approval has also come. Work will start and will be completed in a few weeks," said an engineer from the project implementation unit of GBA.

The official said that had BWSSB stopped sewage flow, the water channel would have remained pollution-free.

In response, BWSSB said the K-100 project is open only from the SP Road end, and from Chickpet to Majestic, the channel surface is covered, and there may be silt. "Apart from that, the 500-metre stretch from SR Nagar also has many house connections, and sewage may be entering the waterway. If we are allowed to cut at least the SR Nagar white-topped stretch, house connections releasing sewage can be fixed," an official said.

Last week, GBA Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao inspected the waterway and directed officials to fix the issue of dirty water flowing into the water channel.

"The water channel was supposed to carry only treated water from STPs and rainwater, but at present, polluted water is flowing, defeating the purpose of the scenic walkway worth Rs 179 crore," said a retired engineer.

Surya urges govt to repair 10K run route

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BANGALORE South MP Tejasvi Surya has urged the state government to immediately repair the 10-km stretch of roads in CBD areas designated for the TCS World 10K marathon as there are severe infrastructure issues along the route.

In an open letter addressed to the state government, Surya highlighted the poor condition of roads in Central Business District, which hosts the internationally recognised run. The TCS World 10K, one of India's largest running events, sees participation from nearly 40,000 runners, including elite athletes, senior citizens and the differently abled.

The route passes through prominent stretches such as MG Road, Cubbon Road and areas around Raj Bhavan. Describing his experience after participating in the run earlier, Surya said the route resembled an "obstacle course" rather than a world-class marathon track.

He pointed out that not a single stretch of the 10-km route was free of potholes, leading to several runners stumbling or sustaining injuries such as sprains. He also noted that senior citizens and persons with disabilities faced significant challenges due to uneven roads, broken footpaths and poor maintenance.

Comparing the event with the Mumbai Marathon, Surya said Bengaluru's roads currently resemble "construction sites - dusty and potholed". Holding the state leadership accountable, he called for urgent intervention.

Army Chief: Op Sindoor used multi-domain warfare

INDRA S @ Bengaluru

"MODERN warfare is no longer about isolated domain superiority but about how effectively different domains are orchestrated across the battlespace," said General Upendra Dwivedi, India's Chief of Army Staff (COAS), on Thursday, citing 'Operation Sindoor' as a key example of evolving jointness in multi-domain warfare.

Speaking at the 2nd edition of the two-day Ran Samwad 2026 - "Multi Domain Operations: An Imperative for Addressing Conventional and Irregular Threats" here, the COAS described the current global security environment as a "dispersed, undeclared, multi-theatre, multi-domain world war," where the interaction between land, air, sea, cyber, space and cognitive domains is constant and decisive.

Referring to Operation Sindoor, he highlighted how ground intelligence networks, combined with cyber and electronic warfare inputs, enabled a precise joint targeting cycle between the Army and the Air Force, while naval repositioning simultaneously shaped the strategic outcome. "No single domain decided the operation. Each domain created the conditions the other needed," he said, underlining that such synchronised, mutually enabling action is the essence of multi-domain operations (MDO).

The COAS outlined ongoing transformation within the Army, while noting that India is "largely, if not fully, multi-domain enabled," he acknowledged challenges in synchronising operations across strategic, operational and tactical levels, as well as countering 'hybrid warfare' that operates below conventional thresholds.

Following the Army's perspective, Admiral Dinesh Tripathi, Chief of Naval Staff, outlined how the maritime domain is evolving within the same multi-domain framework. He noted that ongoing tensions in West Asia and disruptions to maritime traffic demonstrate that security is interconnected and that "distance from conflict does not equate to distance from its consequences."

Horoscopes By Holiday

HOLIDAY MATHIS

10th April : 'I Am Yours,' Says Life The Aries energy is fully vivid with yesterday's Mars march into the sign of the ram. This point of the season is a chance for an almost dizzying momentum toward goals. The time between "I see it, I want it, I got it" is greatly shortened to the point of becoming one seamless gesture. Life is saying, "Take it." The sky is yours. The sun is yours. The ground is yours too.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You'll be offered an opportunity. The real gift is that you're a person people feel compelled to offer things to. The actual offerings may not a match, but your graciousness from this position will keep bringing in more options.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20)
Friendships feel especially lively. It's partly luck and partly the simple truth that you treat connection as a treasure. When you make time for people, they bring their best selves along. Shared laughter becomes the most reliable currency.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 21)
The best moment to give people the whole story is when they are dying to know. The worst moment to share the whole story is when they didn't ask and aren't curious. Create the appetite first, then feed it.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)
A real friendship should add energy to your life, not drain it. If you consistently don't feel lifted, the passage suggests the relationship might not actually function as a friendship. It could be habit, proximity, obligation or a one-sided dynamic.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
Good friendships feel supportive. If one doesn't, broaden your social circle. When you experience different kinds of company, you start to notice how each relationship actually feels. The comparison will help you see what kind of company you truly want.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
Relationships are always working on multiple levels. Sometimes a deep understanding can be achieved through things shared right on the surface. Today's breezy exchanges and lighter agreements build trust and establish a way of being together.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23)
You're good with money for the same reason you're good with people. You notice what's needed, what's fair, what makes the exchange feel right. Deals land well today because your sense of balance turns transactions into mutual satisfaction.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)
You're happy to keep your own life peaceful, though other people's drama can be oddly entertaining. Pay attention to what hooks you today. The story you can't stop watching may reveal something about your own hidden wishes, desires, fears or tendencies.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
And just like that, you become risk averse. It just doesn't seem worth it. That's how you know you have something good, something worth protecting. Heed the inclination to play it safe and enjoy the goodness you already have.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
A deadline approaches. It provides you with all you need -- just the amount of pressure to make creativity flow. Keep moving and you can't go wrong. Ideas will drop in as needed. All that's left to do is let it happen.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
Your attention and energy affect the things and people you touch because everything you do carries a little of your energy with it. Today, you'll choose carefully where to share yourself. Some scenes won't honor your contribution. Skip them entirely.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar 20)
You know that what's doable for you may be impossible for someone else, and you're careful not to project or make assumptions. Your curiosity and compassion help you set expectations appropriately.

TECH, SIGN LANGUAGE EXPERTS HELP COPS CRACK MURDER CASE

The three arrested accused and victim were speech and hearing impaired

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

NANJANGUD rural police have cracked a spine-chilling murder case by arresting three speech and hearing impaired people.

The murder came to light when Savita, a speech and hearing impaired woman from Devarammanahallipalya village, filed a police complaint on March 4, stating that her husband Swamy, also speech and hearing impaired, went missing on February 12.

The police, who registered a missing person's case, launched an investigation. With no verbal testimonies to rely on, the police turned to digital clues. An analysis of the couple's mobile phones revealed a series of video calls with clues to the case.

The investigation led the police to Srinivasa, 37, and Gangadhara, 23, both from Tumakuru district, who are also speech and hearing impaired.

Soon, a disturbing story of love, betrayal and murder emerged during a painstaking interrogation with the help of sign language experts.

Srinivasa befriended Savita and was in touch with her through video calls. Soon, he fell in love with her. As their affair continued, Srinivasa lent money to Swamy. Swamy, who learnt of his wife's affair with Srinivasa, objected to it. He also did not repay the money he had borrowed from Srinivasa. Enraged by Swamy's act, Srinivasa allegedly plotted to murder him.

On February 12, Swamy was lured to Amruthur by Srinivasa, who promised to pay him more money. After having liquor, Swamy was taken to a farm near Hosapura village from Amruthur. There, Srinivasa, along with Gangadhara and another accomplice, who is also speech and hearing impaired, allegedly assaulted Swamy, who succumbed to injuries.

The trio then tied a stone to Swamy's body and threw it into a well. On April 7, the police recovered the decomposed body from the well. Swamy's mother identified his remains. A motorcycle and mobile phones used by the accused and other items were also recovered.

The accused have been remanded in judicial custody.

The police said the case posed a big challenge to them due to the communication barrier. However, they managed to crack it with the help of technology and sign language experts.

II PU girl dies by suicide, case filed against lecturer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 17-year-old II PU student died by suicide at her house in Subhashnagar in Doddaballapura rural police limits on April 4 as she was allegedly harassed and humiliated by her lecturer in front of other students in the college. Doddaballapura rural police, who had registered a case of unnatural death, have now taken up a case of abetment to suicide against the lecturer.

The victim has been identified as S Gowthami, a resident of Subhashnagar in Doddaballapura. Gowthami's parents, who went to clean her room a few days after her death, found a note in a book on her study table.

In the note, Gowthami accused her lecturer of mentally harassing and humiliating her in front of other students. She held the lecturer responsible for her suicide. Her parents initially believed that their daughter might have taken the extreme step due to depression for which she was under treatment. However, after seeing the note, they approached the police again.

Gowthami's father VL Somashekharaiah, who works as an assistant supervisor with a public sector company, found her dead around 5.15 pm on April 4 after returning home from office. Gowthami was alone at home that day. Her mother and elder sister had gone to their native place. Gowthami did not respond to Somashekharaiah's calls to open the door. Suspecting something amiss, he and his neighbour broke open the door to see Gowthami hanging from a ceiling fan in her room.

"The victim was a student of a private college in Doddaballapura. In a note, she accused her lecturer of mentally harassing and humiliating her in front of other students. The victim is also said to have been suffering from depression and would keep telling her parents that she wants to end her life. She was under treatment. We are investigating if the lecturer had any role in her death," a police officer said.

Man in video not on 'Zombie' drug: Top cop

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A VIDEO posted on social media two days ago has gone viral and people feared that 'zombie drugs' had made an entry to the city. The North East division police have traced the person who was seen disoriented and standing like a 'zombie' in the video, in suspicion that he must be under the influence of xylazine (a veterinary tranquilizer) mixed with other drugs.

Bengaluru City Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh clarified that the person was traced by the police and it was found that he was not under the influence of any drugs. The commissioner has also criticized spreading fake news.

"Authenticity of any video should be verified before uploading on social media. It is inappropriate to make a video and linking it to drugs. The person who first made the video will be identified. Those making such videos and posting them online and those who share them will have to face legal action". He said those who shared will also have to face the heat as the police will serve them notices.

"The person found in the video was subjected to medical examination. No drugs or intoxicants were found in his blood sample. He is not from Bengaluru and had come from outside. As he was suffering from some illness, he had taken some medicines. Along with the medicines, he had also consumed a small amount of alcohol. Due to the side effects of the medicine and intoxication of alcohol, his body was out of balance and he had behaved strangely. It has nothing to do with drugs," the commissioner clarified.

Man comes under pallakki tractor, had gone to invite friend for wedding

Akshith Purushotham

Bengaluru: A 27-year-old petrol bunk owner, who was gone to invite a friend for his wedding, and was watching a procession of deities, was run over by a tractor carrying a deity. The mishap occurred in Hulimavu traffic police station limits on Wednesday night. The deceased Akshith Purushotham was a resident of Banashankari. He had gone to his friend's house in Hulimavu on Wednesday night to invite him for his wedding scheduled on April 29 and 30. Since there was a 'Brahma Rathotsava' in Kodandarama Swamy Temple, his friend insisted that he leaves after watching the 'Pallakki Utsava'. Akshith stayed back at his friend's house. Around 5.30am, when Akshith was standing by the roadside watching the 'pallakki', a tractor took a turn on Hulimavu Lake Road in Krishna Layout and hit him. Akshith fell and came under the wheels of the tractor. He was crushed and died en route to hospital. Police seized the tractor and are on the lookout for its driver. "The tractor driver was unable to control the vehicle while taking a turn as the road slopes," an officer said. ENS

Union MoS for Railways V Somanna said successful trial runs have already been conducted, confirming the operational feasibility of the increased speed

Peaceful polling in Bagalkot, D'gere South

Results on May 4; BJP alleges cash distribution to woo voters; Stray clashes reported in both constituencies

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

AMID 'cash for vote' allegations the bypolls to Bagalkot and Davanagere South Assembly constituencies went off peacefully on Thursday. Bagalkot recorded a tentative voting percentage of 68.74% and Davanagere South 68.43%.

The counting of votes will take place on May 4.

The Election Commission of India (ECI) has filed a FIR taking note of a video of 'cash for vote' episode in Bagalkot that went viral on social media.

The BJP candidate Veeranna Charantimath alleged that the Congress has distributed money running into crores of rupees. He, however, exuded confidence of defeating the Congress candidate Umesh Meti, the son of the late HY Meti.

Bagalkot witnessed good polling from the beginning- it registered 11.87% at 9 am and 65.68 % at 5 pm compared to Davanagere South that witnessed 9.01% and 63.04% respectively.

The women who had outnumbered the men in terms of the electoral population reportedly showed enthusiasm in both seats. During the 2023 general elections Bagalkot (69.46%) and Davanagere South (69.48%) had reported a similar trend.

Given the high stakes, factors such as intense campaigning, alleged inducements the parties offered to a section of voters, this time the overall polling percentage is likely to be significant, according to reports.

In Davanagere South, the polling was sluggish initially, especially in the 67 polling stations with a dominant Muslim population. It was attributed to the predicament of a section of Muslims as about 13 candidates from their community were in the fray with two of them, SDPI's Afsar Kodlipete and an independent, Khader Adil Pasha, showing promise to give a fight to the Congress candidate Samarth Shamanuru and the BJP's Srinivas T Dasakariyappa.

In the evening the message was rung out of a mosque near Millat College at Azad Nagar that the community's electorates should go out and vote.

Congress and SDPI cadres clashed near polling stations at ward no.4 of Mehboob Nagara Main Road. The police brought the situation under control.

As the stakes were high for the ruling Congress, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had campaigned extensively and devoted more time to Bagalkot as it was the seat that fell vacant following the death of a Kuruba leader, HY Meti.

The BJP, too, went all out with its state president BY Vijayendra and his father and former chief minister BS Yediyurappa hitting the campaign trail besides the party's bigwigs including Union Minister Pralhad Joshi, LoPs R Ashoka and Chalavadi Narayanaswamy among others.

FIR against 'Congress worker' over 'cash-for-vote' episode in Bagalkot

Young women stand outside a polling booth to vote in Bagalkot on Thursday

FIROZ ROZINDAR @ Bagalkot

THE polling for the by-election held for the Bagalkot Assembly constituency was rocked with allegations of 'cash-for-vote' after a person— said to be a Congress leader— was allegedly found to be distributing money to voters on Thursday.

After the video went viral, the Election Commission of India (ECI) ordered filing of an FIR against the accused, Jaffer Bepari, a resident of Navanagar in Bagalkot. According to the video, the accused allegedly distributed money in Vombe colony in Bagalkot.

Meanwhile, the polling was held peacefully in Bagalkot with the constituency recording a total of 68.74% polling a slight dip from the 2023 Assembly election (69.46%).

Elderly woman faints

An elderly woman who had come to vote at a booth in Amingad village, Bagalkot, collapsed, possibly owing to exhaustion. She was immediately helped by fellow voters by offering water, and was rushed to a hospital.

The bypoll was necessitated following the demise of Congress legislator HY Meti last November owing to age-related ailments.

While the Ruling Congress fielded Meti's younger son, Umesh Meti, the BJP gave ticket to former MLA Veeranna Charantimath. HY Meti had defeated Charantimath by over 5,000 votes in the 2023 Assembly elections.

The polling was held in 319 polling booths across the constituency.

Long queues were seen outside the polling booths from morning. Anticipating high temperatures later in the day, voters were seen arriving at their respective polling booths as soon as voting commenced in the morning.

At a few polling booths, women voters appeared to be outnumbering their male counterparts. Young women were queued up outside 'Sakhi' polling stations. First-time voters were also excited to exercise their franchise. Flashing their index finger which had the mark of voting with the indelible ink, many people were seen taking pictures at the selfie point arranged by the Bagalkot administration.

While the district administration had already permitted elderly persons aged 85 and above to vote from their homes in advance, many elderly voters were seen at polling booths.

Bagalkot constituency has a total voters of 2,59,260 voters of which 1,26,761 are male, 1,32,499 female, and 23 Others.

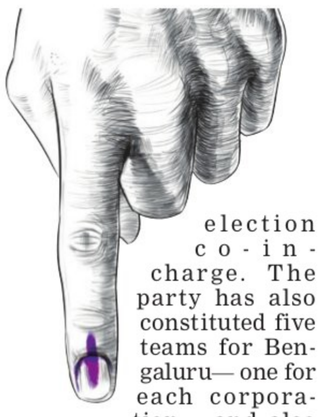
A total of 382 ballot units, 382 control units, and 414 VVPAT machines were used in the polling.

The counting of votes will be held on May 4.

BUSY DAYS AHEAD

Poll season is here, parties get their act together

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru



THE year's first political test between the ruling Congress and Opposition concluded on Thursday, and marks the beginning of the poll season in Karnataka— elections to panchayats, Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) and many urban local bodies are expected to be held in 2026. Both parties have already geared up with meetings and strategies to make their presence stronger in the 2028 Assembly polls.

This year, polls are due for around 6,000 Gram Panchayats, 239 Taluk and 31 Zilla Panchayats, besides five corporations of GBA in Bengaluru. Mahanagara Palike polls are due in Mysuru, Davanagere, Mangaluru, Shivamogga and Tumakuru. There are 186 urban local bodies to which elections are also expected to be held this year.

Elections to the erstwhile Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (now GBA) were last held in 2015. The Council term ended in September 2020 and for six years, Bengaluru has not had an elected local body.

Senior Congress leader and minister Ramalinga Reddy told TNIE that the Karnataka High Court has directed the government to conduct GBA polls by June 2026. "We don't know when the Election Commission will decide as census work has stated. We have already geared up, a few weeks ago we had called applications and received over 1,700 applications from aspirants. Now we have announced the reservation category of each ward, and aspirants have started working at the ground level," he said. Asked about timing, he said they need only 40 days to be ready for polls.

The BJP, too, is poll-ready. The party has already appointed an election incharge leaders for the GBA polls. Former national general secretary Ram Madhav has been appointed election incharge, former state president of Rajasthan Satish Poonia and Maharashtra MLA Sanjay Upadhyay are election co-incharge. The party has also constituted five teams for Bengaluru— one for each corporation— and also constituency-wise teams.

The term of most Gram Panchayats ended in December 2025 and the state government has already appointed administrators in the absence of elected representatives. "Due to a severe staff crunch, one administrator is handling two to three gram panchayats. Panchayat Development Officers (PDOs) are taking up people's grievances in the absence of panchayat members.

Karnataka State Election Commission secretary H Amaresh said final voter rolls will be announced on April 18, and subsequently, a list of polling stations will also be out, both of which are major jobs. "As per the court order, we have to conduct elections before June 30," he said. On panchayat polls, he said earlier delimitation or ward reservation was done by the Election Commission, but now, RDPR will be doing it. "We are ready to conduct polls anytime," he said.

In Taluk Panchayats and other uban local bodies, the Commission will conduct polls once delimitation and other processes are ready.

BJP MLC N Ravi Kumar said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his cabinet were in Davanagere South and Bagalkot constituencies, which shows their fear of losing the seats.

"In rural pockets, the situation is worse with drinking water, bad roads, no grants, and people are against the government. These issues are present in Bengaluru too. We are taking these crises to the public," the MLC added.

Mercury effect: Voters stay indoors, reach booths late in cities

DAVANAGERE SOUTH

G SUBHASH CHANDRA @ Davanagere

People wait to vote outside a polling booth in Davanagere South on Thursday

DESPITE targeted campaigns by political parties, voting numbers did not go up sharply, and instead held steady in Davanagere South constituency, which voted in a bypoll due to the demise of former minister Dr Shamanur Shivashankarappa.

As the temperature touched 39 degree Celsius, voters stayed indoors. Voting dipped in the afternoon, but increased at the last moment. There was no divide between urban and rural areas, and both recorded the same percentage. While rural areas saw high voting percentage in the morning, urban centres saw long queues as the day drew to a close. Except for some minor incidents, polling was peaceful. ZP CEO and SVEEP chairman Gitte Madhava Vittalrao told TNIE that polling percentage during the 2023 assembly elections was 69.48%, and this number is likely to go up after the final count. He, however, said the poll percentage has been remarkable in comparison with other urban centres where voting was on. The systematic approach of SVEEP officials through campaigns, and the reach of political bigwigs led to a healthy voting percentage.

At 9am, 9% polling was recorded, with 20,824 votes, which swelled to 37.17% (85,882 votes) at 1pm. The number crossed 1,14,752 votes by 3pm, as voting inched up to 49.66%, and by 5pm, it was at 63.03%, with 1,45,642 votes. After this, people began queuing up in a late bid to vote. Voting continued till late in the evening.

BJP alleges distribution of money

BJP candidate Srinivas T Daskariyappa and others alleged that the Congress was openly distributing money in minority-dominated areas and also posted videos on social media. Former corporator Shivanagouda Patil alleged that at Shivanagara's Al Iqra School, and other areas of Davanagere South, the Congress was luring voters with money, rice bags and other items.They alleged that district minister SS Mallikarjun and his team has travelled illegally in the constituency and took stock of the situation, which is violation of the code of conduct. They complained to DC Gangadharaswamy GM.

Scuffle between workers

At Basha Nagar in Davanagere city, there was a minor altercation and scuffle between SDPI and Congress workers over placing of tables and attracting voters. BJP and Congress workers also squabbled at a polling station in Basha Nagar. A large number of BJP workers tried to enter the 200m zone, including defeated BJP candidate BJ Ajaykumar, which was averted by police.

Forum seeks Guv's assent to anti-honour crimes Bill

ENS @ Bengaluru

MARYADEGEDU Hatye Virodhi Samiti, under the banner of the All India Lawyers Association for Justice, on Thursday demanded the immediate assent of the Governor to the Freedom of Choice in Marriage and Prevention and Prohibition of Crimes in the Name of Honour and Tradition Bill, 2026 (Eva Nammava Eva Nammava Act). The organisation also called for the strict implementation of the Bill.

Addressing a press conference, the Samiti welcomed the Bill. Advocate Maitreyi Krishnan said that the Bill passed by the Karnataka Legislature is a significant and much-needed step towards addressing the continuing menace of so-called "honour" crimes.

She said the law affirms a foundational constitutional principle that the freedom to choose one's partner, to marry, and to live with dignity is a fundamental right. Violence, threats, harassment, or coercion of any form inflicted in the name of honour or tradition are violations of constitutionally guaranteed rights, she said.

Yogesh Gowda murder case verdict on April 15

BENGALURU: A Special Court on Thursday deferred the verdict in the 2016 murder case of BJP leader Yogish Gowda to April 15. Dharwad Congress MLA and former minister Vinay Kulkarni has been named as an accused in the case. The court had earlier scheduled the judgment for Thursday (April 9) after concluding a prolonged trial. The Special Court for sitting and former MPs/MLAs Judge Santosh Gajanan Bhat heard the final arguments from both sides and stated that the verdict will be pronounced on April 15. Yogish Gowda was hacked to death in Dharwad on June 15, 2016. ENS

Priyank, Sharanaprakash defend Kharge's 'poisonous snakes' remark

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

RDPR and IT/BT Minister Priyank Kharge and Medical Education Minister Dr Sharanaprakash Patil have defended the recent statement of All-India Congress Committee (AICC) president Mallikarjun Kharge on the RSS.

Speaking to reporters in Kalaburagi on Thursday, Priyank, who is the son of Mallikarjun Kharge, said that if the RSS is a registered organisation, let it file a complaint on its official registered letterhead against the Congress chief.

Defending his father's statement, Priyank said that the former had only asked "to kill poisonous snakes". "What is wrong with it? Is it possible to give milk to a snake when it comes to bite you? They (BJP and RSS) call the Congress Urban Naxals and try to defame us," Priyank said.

Priyank also accused PM Narendra Modi of handling foreign affairs badly. "It is because of this that we are facing a shortage of LPG and are facing the threat of a shortage of petrol and diesel," he said.

Dr Sharanaprakash Patil said that Mallikarjun Kharge has not blamed anybody personally in his lifetime, and now also he has only asked to kill poisonous ideology.

Dr Patil said that calling a two-day special session of the Parliament from April 16 to 18 to discuss key amendments to the Women's Reservation Act 2023 is a politically motivated step. "By doing so, BJP wants to attract the women voters of West Bengal, Tamil Nadu and Kerala," he said. Dr Sharanaprakash said that when the Bill was passed in the Parliament, the NDA government said that it would be implemented after delimitation of constituencies and after completion of the national census. "But now, it has hurriedly called for a special session to gain political mileage," he said.

The medical education minister said that the government has requested the National Medical Commission (NMC) to give permission to start new government medical colleges at Bagalkot and Ramanagara this year.

He said that last year, Karnataka got an additional 400 under-graduate MBBS seats and 432 PG seats. This year we have applied for an additional 450 UG seats and also PG seats, he said.

Dr Sharanaprakash Patil, who is elected from Sedam, also reviewed water scarcity at Sedam and asked the officials to constantly monitor the water availability during summer. The concerned officials would be suspended if they show negligence in their duty, he warned.

Siddu camp MLAs to visit Delhi, likely to discuss cabinet reshuffle

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

THE issue of change in leadership in the state is likely to resurface once again with senior MLAs, mostly associated with the Siddaramaiah camp, embarking on a two-day visit to New Delhi on April 12.

The team, led by Chief Whip in the Assembly Ashok Pattan, will comprise about 20 MLAs, who had met the CM recently. The team is planning to meet AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, general secretary (organisation) K C Venugopal, and general secretary in-charge of Karnataka Randeep Singh Surjewala in Delhi.

Expecting that the Congress high command will give its nod to Siddaramaiah to reshuffle his cabinet, the MLAs are lobbying hard to become ministers. They may also bat for the continuation of Siddaramaiah as CM in the interest of the party, an informed source told TNIE. The MLAs, who are expected to be part of the delegation, include TB Jayachandra, Beluru Gopalakrishna, T Raghumurthy, KM Shivalingegowda, K Shadakshari, BR Patil, Raju Kage, Laxman Savadi, AR Krishnamurthy, KY Nanjegowda, SN Narayanaswamy, Raghavendra Hitnal, SR Srinivas, Ramesh Bandisiddegowda, Subbareddy, G S Patil, among others, sources added. This development comes days after Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara had said that Siddaramaiah will complete his full term in office.

CM to attend CWC in Delhi today

Karnataka CM Siddaramaiah will participate in the Congress Working Committee (CWC) meeting in Delhi on Friday. Siddaramaiah will meet Congress central leaders, including party chief Mallikarjun Kharge and LoP in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on the sidelines of the CWC.It is to be seen whether the CM will push for a Cabinet reshuffle. The CM will also meet Union ministers and discuss development works related to Bengaluru, said sources. He will return to Bengaluru the same day.

The high command, CM and Deputy CM will take a call on the change in leadership... will you (media) not wait until April 9? What others speak about it (change in leadership) is irrelevant

Priyank Kharge, Karnataka RDPR and IT/BT Minister

The Siddaramaiah camp, too, wants its leader to remain in the top post irrespective of the outcome of the Davanagere South and Bagalkot bypoll.

"Kerala elections are on April 9. After that, the Central leaders will be available in Delhi, and that is why the MLAs of the Siddaramaiah camp are heading to the national camp," added sources.

Meanwhile, the members of the Shivakumar camp, including first-time MLAs led by Channagiri MLA Basavaraj Shivaganga, have also chalked out a plan to rekindle the change in CM issue, sources added. Chances of Deputy CM and KPCC chief DK Shivakumar visiting the high command soon cannot be ruled out, they added.

"The high command, CM and Deputy CM will take a call on the change in leadership... will you (media) not wait until April 9? What others speak about it (change in leadership) is irrelevant," RDPR and IT/BT Minister Priyank Kharge told reporters in Bengaluru on Wednesday.

In a long-stretched legal battle, all the 56 accused in connection with the pro-Maharashtra signboard violence on July 27, 2014 at Yellur, Belagavi district, have been acquitted by a local court. The Belagavi police who had resorted to lathi charge to quell the violent mob during the clashes at Yellur, booked seven cases against the accused at the time

Flower seller's daughter from Bengaluru scores 97%

Rakshita Maria

In what can be called a triumph despite facing all odds, Rakshita Maria, the daughter of a flower seller in Bengaluru has scored 97.3%, with total marks of 584 out of 600, in Commerce. Rakshita said, "My parents sell flowers on the streets of Bengaluru and their struggle inspired me to work hard. They wake up as early as 3am and head to City Market to buy flowers and make garlands, and sell them near a BBMP park in Hosahalli. I expected to score good marks but 97% result is a sweet surprise for me." Explaining the strategy for her preparation for exams, she said, "I not only focused on class lectures but also watched videos on YouTube. I referred to old question papers and answer scripts of previous toppers. In two preparatory exams I scored low marks in accountancy. So I focused more on solving these papers. Besides, I also covered portions that were ignored by teachers during classroom teaching. To my luck, some questions appeared from those sections and I wrote well in exams." Rakshita aims to pursue company secretaryship while completing BCom from this academic year itself. (Rashmi Patil @ Benglauru)

GAGANYATRIS SUGGEST BIGGER ROLE FOR PVT FIRMS IN HUMAN MISSIONS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INDIAN astronauts, referred to as 'Gaganyatris, have called for a bigger role by private players in Indian human space missions and higher autonomy for the mission crews in dealing with medical emergencies.

Speaking in a panel discussion on human space programme and challenges, on the second day of the three-day international conference on spacecraft mission operations, SMOPS-2026, Group Captain Prashanth B Nair said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, too, had called for more public-private partnerships (PPPs). Although collaborations are happening, the role of private firms and start-ups was limited, Nair pointed out.

He said more work involving private players pertained to non-human aspects like mechanical and electrical components. However, safety of astronauts, their food, health and needs in space was left with the government, which should increasingly involve private agencies. "Private companies should also be involved in mission operations and mission control," he said.

Recalling his observations during Axiom mission, he said apart from government agency controlling the operations, private firm (SpaceX) was also working parallelly. This helps create not only a healthy competitive atmosphere, but also more business models while boosting confidence, he said.

Group Captain Shubhanshu Shukla, who was the pilot in the Axiom Mission and the first Indian to step into the International Space Station (ISS), pitched for more autonomy for astronauts in dealing with medical emergencies during missions. He recalled an incident on the ISS when a fellow-astronaut sustained injury and more time was spent in establishing contact with the control room back on Earth.

Agreeing with Shukla, Group Captain Angad Pratap, said, "To act immediately in absence of doctors, that training is necessary. Astronauts are well trained for hands-on medical emergencies. To understand and address the symptoms, in-depth medical training is not required. Special training, however, is needed when communication is lost and time is limited," he said.

Psycho training key for space odysseys: Gaganyatri Singh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AS part of preparations for India's first manned space mission, Gaganyaan, scheduled to be launched in the first quarter of 2027, Indian astronauts – called Gaganyatris – were subjected to Mapping of Interoperable Traits and Response Assessment (MITRA) training to prepare them for the psychological aspects of space missions. MITRA was the first of its kind team behavioural study in India, designed by ISRO and Bengaluru-based Institute of Aerospace Medicine. The Gaganyatris – Group Captains Angad Pratap Singh, Shubhanshu Shukla, Prashanth Nair and Ajit Krishnan – along with scientists and researchers from the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), underwent MITRA mission training in Leh, Ladakh, from April 2 to 9 at an altitude of around 3,500 metres, and were familiarised with conditions like hypoxia, low temperatures, claustrophobia and isolation.

Singh said the training helped understand not just one's own behaviour but also that of the crew mates, besides contributing to team and relationship building – crucial in space missions to be more accommodative and a better team person. He said MITRA was similar to the training offered in other countries, but differed in environments created, like in European Space Agencies' Cooperative Adventure for Valuing and Exercising Human Behaviour and Performance Skills, which brings in people from 22–26 countries, each hailing from a different cultural and professional background.

"We have to see what our requirements and expectations are from the human space experiments that we are doing and what the human resources and funds we can allocate today for it. We need to have a credible human space transportation system –the Gaganyaan mission – and then a credible space habitat – the Bhartiya Antriksh Station. A microgravity laboratory for conducting experiments is of the highest order. So, the end goal is to go and perform science experiments, and for that there is a need for enablers like Gaganyaan, docking systems and others. And once you have mastered all of these, then it is like LEGO," he said.

SPACE MISSIONS: GOVT, ISRO LOOKING INTO TIMELINE CONSTRAINTS, SAYS MAX

BENGALURU: Funding is not a problem when it comes to Indian space missions. The money that has been pumped in so far is more than enough, said Group Captain and Gaganyatri Angad Pratap Singh (popularly known as Max). "The Gaganyaan mission is still in the prototype stage. We are going to see the first unmanned launch this year, but the government has already taken multiple steps ahead. It has sanctioned Rs 10,000 crore for the space station and Rs 10,000 crore for the next generation launch vehicle," he said. The act of pacing up the programmes and execution of missions is a policy decision. However, there are certain constraints on timelines, which the government and ISRO are looking into, he said. Group Captain and Gaganyatri Shubhanshu Shukla (popularly called Shux) said there are no holding backs. They are taking time because the missions are challenging and complex. ISRO and other associated firms are working hard to ensure that missions are completed on schedule. However, it would be safe to comment on timelines when one or two test missions are completed. "They will give good insight as to where we stand. But, as far as we (four chosen Gaganyatris) are concerned, we have been selected for this mission and we may or may not end up going depending upon the timeline when it happens or what our conditions are. This is because these missions require medical, physical and psychological fitness." Shux said. ENS

No traceof 2nd missing Kerala trekker so far

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chikkamagaluru

THE joint team of forest, fire services and police personnel have been unable to trace Srinanda, a minor girl from Kerala who went missing while trekking near Manikyadhaar on the Bababudengiri Hill Rages on Tuesday evening, even after 24 hours of search on Thursday.

The search team, along with advanced tracking equipment, was deployed on the direction of Forest, Ecology and Environment Minister Eshwar B Khandre to track the girl. Even though the team members used thermal drones in the hilly terrains along the Chandradrona Hill Ranges to track the girl, she could not be located.

Meanwhile, Srinanda's uncle has filed a complaint with Chikkamagaluru Rural Police about her disappearance. He said the girl and her family members, along with some other tourists, had returned from a holiday trip to Hampi on Tuesday to visit Bababudengiri, after which she went missing.

"Srinanda went missing while we were returning from Manikyadhara falls. We, along with local residents, searched for her but in vain. We had planned to return to Kerala on Wednesday. She is 14 years old and is anticipating her SSLC exam results," he said.

Police sources said a team of Kerala Police is expected to join the search.

Khandre for tracking apps, SOPs for safety

Forest and Environment Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Thursday said there is a need to ensure the safety of trekkers with technological interventions and mobile based-applications.

He said the forest department has been directed to ensure the safety of trekkers, and prepare Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) for safe trekking. "They must be prepared in such a manner that they become a model for the entire country. SOPs should be designed and implemented as soon as possible," he said.

He added that apps used by the forest department for tracking and recording animals, like M-Stripe, Hejje and Hulli, should be designed for trekkers also. They must be directed to download these apps before setting out, he said.

The minister's directions came in the wake of two consecutive instances of a woman and girl from Keralam going missing while trekking in Karnataka within one week. Guides, trekkers and the forest department are responsible for safety, and in case of any untoward incidents, guides will also be held responsible, he said.

The case pertains to the death of Vishwanath (48), a contract worker from G Malligere village in Dudda hobli of Mandya taluk, who died after coming into contact with a live wire while carrying out repair work at Hebbadi Hundi village in Srirangapatna taluk.

Heavy polling lifts LDF's hopes of 3rd term, UDF comeback, NDA gains

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

ENTHUSED by high voter turnout in the assembly elections, both LDF and UDF believe it will work in their favour. BJP-led NDA, believes it can win at least three to four seats, in addition to increasing its vote share. The front sees the higher voter turnout as an indicator of a possible third term. The CPM believes that the government's progress report, highlighting the completion of promised projects, has had a positive impact on the public.

The party leadership assesses that Muslim consolidation, claimed by the UDF leadership, has not materialised in the Malabar region. It believes that lack of leadership in the Congress and the controversy over the Wayanad rehabilitation project worked in favour of the LDF. Careful not to repeat the lapses of the last Lok Sabha election, the front says it ensured that its support base did not wither.

The UDF leadership sees the turnout as a clear sign of a change in government in the state. Though during the last leg of campaigning, the front climbed down from its claim of securing over a 100 seats, it is now expressing renewed confidence. All its partners are now claiming that the front will come to power.

The Muslim League leadership is also sounding confident. It sees the UDF increasing its tally in the Malabar region. The UDF calculates that the trust deficit among minorities towards Pinarayi Vijayan and LDF government has reflected in the voting pattern.

The rise in the voting percentage has added to BJP's confidence of making its presence felt in the assembly this time round. The NDA is pinning its hopes on Nemom, Kazhakkootam, Palakkad and Manjeshwar. The front believes it can win at least three to four seats. The BJP calculates that an increase in voter turnout could give the party a decisive role.

PONDY POLLS

BJP, Cong clash at Thirukanur booth

PUDUCHERRY: A scuffle broke out between the supporters of the BJP and the Congress-DMK alliance at a polling booth in Thirukanur in Mannadipet constituency, resulting in a lathicharge by the police. An argument broke out between the supporters of Congress candidate TPR Selvam and BJP leader and Puducherry Home Minister A Namassivayam, after the former alleged that BJP functionaries from a different area had entered the polling booth and attempted to influence voters. This led to a heated exchange which soon escalated into a scuffle.

'Gift tokens' trigger scuffle in Pondy

PUDUCHERRY: Tension prevailed in the Bahour Assembly constituency after the supporters of AINRC candidate allegedly distributed gift tokens to voters during polling hours. AINRC cadre associated with former minister T Thiagarajan, who is contesting on behalf of the ruling N R Congress, were allegedly involved in distributing gift tokens to the voters. The party supporters had gone door-to-door before the commencement of the polls, allegedly distributing tokens assuring voters of cash rewards, groceries, and household items.

Forced into sex work by uncle, minor gangraped for a month

NAVEEN KUMAR TALLAM
@ Karimnagar

IN what can only be described as a new low in human depravity, a minor girl was allegedly forced into prostitution by her maternal uncle and sexually assaulted by multiple persons, including staff from a private English-medium school in Jammikunta where she was studying in Class 8.

According to officials, the abuse had continued for about a month. The main accused, the girl's uncle, is alleged to have threatened her with death if she refused to comply. Police said she was taken to different places and exploited.

The matter came to light after the girl's mother contacted the child helpline. Teams from the Child Protection Society and Childline, working under the Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS), reached the residence and rescued the girl. She was produced before the Child Welfare Committee (CWC) and underwent a medical examination at the district headquarters hospital in Karimnagar on Wednesday.

Police said the girl's father had died a few years ago, and her mother had been living separately with her children.

Officials from the ICDS are conducting an inquiry based on the complaint lodged by the girl's mother. Police have registered a case against 13 persons, including two women teachers who allegedly assisted and facilitated the exploitation on a commission basis.

Jammikunta police have invoked Sections 6 and 17 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012, along with Sections 65, 70, 87, 96, 127(2), 351(2), 115(2), 74 and 77 read with 49 of the BNS. The girl and her mother have sought justice and protection, stating that they continue to receive threats from the maternal uncle.

READING HIGH TURNOUTS MADE MORE HAZARDOUS IN POST-S.I.R. VOTING

BY all indications, voters came out in numbers on Thursday to showcase India's participative democracy at its best. However, the high voting percentages should not be taken as a dipstick test to establish pro- or anti-incumbency sentiments in Kerala, Assam or Puducherry. Even in the best of times, interpreting mandates based on turnouts can be problematic. Add into the mix the electoral roll changes made by special intensive revisions and the task becomes even more difficult. The weeding out of absent, shifted, dead and duplicate voters by the SIRs does partially explain the single-phase elections' higher turnouts. But the roll revision also makes the effort to draw conclusions more complicated. Factoring in other issues affecting the voters' intent could be fraught as well. For example, the central government timed the special Parliament session to amend the women's reservation Bill in the middle of this month's polling seemingly to derive maximum electoral mileage while skirting scrutiny under the model code of conduct. But gauging its impact would be hazardous.

At the time of going to press, Kerala—at 78.27 percent—had recorded its fourth-best turnout, sharply higher than the 2021 Assembly polls' 74.06 percent. The LDF led by Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan is seeking a third consecutive term, while the Congress-led UDF hopes to benefit from the anti-incumbency factor. The BJP is the third pole trying to emerge as a significant player in the state. In Assam, the turnout was 85.51 percent, compared to 82.42 percent in 2021 and 84.72 percent in 2016. With the BJP aspiring to retain the mandate for the third consecutive time, Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma and the opposition Congress were upbeat after what both sides called unprecedented polling on a rain-soaked day. Participation at many polling booths crossed 95 percent. Meanwhile, Puducherry registered its highest-ever turnout of 89.87 percent, up from 82.2 percent in 2021 and beyond the previous highest of 85.57 percent in 2011. In 2016, the NDA had wrested power in the Union territory and installed N Rangasamy as Chief Minister.

Now begins the long wait for the three regions that voted on the first day of this three-week-long schedule. Whether the people opted for continuity or change will be revealed only on May 4, the counting day.

KALPAKKAM A MILESTONE ON ROAD TO RELIABILITY

THIS week, India's three-stage nuclear power programme crossed a milestone. The indigenously designed-and-built 500-megawatt-electrical (MWe) fast breeder reactor at Kalpakkam in Tamil Nadu attained criticality—the point at which sustained and controlled nuclear fission chain reaction begins with stable power output, marking the transition to the operational phase that would generate electricity. This marks India's entry into the second of its nuclear programme's three stages.

The Department of Atomic Energy designed a three-stage programme because though India has limited uranium reserves, it holds a quarter of the global thorium deposits that can be extracted from monazite sand on the beaches of Kerala, Odisha and Tamil Nadu. In the first stage, natural uranium is used as fuel in pressurised heavy water reactors to generate power. The spent fuel from these reactors produces plutonium, the primary fuel for the second stage, in which fast-breeder reactors generate more fuel than they consume. The prototype fast-breeder reactor at Kalpakkam will breed Uranium-233 from thorium, laying the groundwork for stage three, which will use the Uranium-233 bred in the second stage as fuel.

Today, nuclear power accounts for just 8.78 gigawatt of India's total installed capacity of more than 520 GW. But experts project a three-fold growth in the nuclear capacity to reach 22.38 GW by 2031-32. And thorium holds the key for that leap.

A broader view of the sector makes India's clean and reliable energy roadmap clearer. The country today has 25 nuclear reactors that have achieved first-stage criticality and are generating power; 11 more are under construction. The Nuclear Energy Mission has also allocated ₹20,000 crore for indigenously-designed small modular reactors, at least five of which are expected to be operational by 2033. The Bhabha Atomic Research Centre is developing the next-generation plants—200-MWe and 55-MWe small modular reactors and a 5-MW-thermal high-temperature gas-cooled reactor for producing hydrogen. The Sustainable Harnessing and Advancement of Nuclear energy for Transforming India Act, 2025 streamlines the legal framework to enable private participation in nuclear power generation under strict regulations to encourage collaboration and investment.

The roadmap looks encouraging. Kalpakkam gaining criticality is a turning point for the way ahead—one of technological self-reliance leading to energy security and India's net-zero commitments for 2070.

QUICK TAKE

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

FEW things invite as intense a search as the identity behind a famous pseudonym. Last month, Reuters concluded after a tortuous investigation that Bristol-born Robin Gunningham is the elusive street artist Banksy. This week, the New York Times claimed that London-born Adam Back is the famed bitcoin developer nicknamed Satoshi Nakamoto—a claim the computer programmer has denied. Maybe literature and music, where pseudonyms don't invite such scrutiny, can provide a lesson. Views about George Orwell's writing are unlikely to change when you know he was born Eric Arthur Blair in Motihari, Bihar. Fans of electronic music duo Daft Punk did not mind that they wore metallic helmets in public for decades to dissociate their faces from the fame. Neither should it bother you that this text you are reading is without a byline.

The govt can't just offer an incentive and walk away if it wants to ensure success for its recent push to make rare earth permanent magnets. This is the time for tweaks

FOR CRITICAL MAGNETS, THE STATE MUST CARRY ITS PART OF THE RISK

DAVINDER SANDHU
Co-founder and Chair at Primus Partners; former advisor to World Bank Executive Director for India, and former Director, Prime Minister's Office

SOURAV ROY

INDIA'S push for building a domestic rare-earth permanent magnet (REPM) base will need more than just industry effort. Recent experience with the production-linked incentives (PLI) in battery manufacturing proves that the State cannot just design an incentive, hold a tender and then step away.

The battery PLI was clearly ambitious. It envisaged rapid commissioning in two years and sales-linked incentives over a five-year window. Domestic value-addition was targeted at 60 percent within these five years. The challenges were limited technology availability, a skilled-manpower gap, dependence on imported equipment and non-availability of upstream components such as cathode/anode materials and electrolyte.

The scheme tried to pull a gigafactory into existence, but the ecosystem that makes a gigafactory bankable and buildable was still to be set up.

By October 2025, only 2.8 percent of targeted capacity had been commissioned, commercial sales had not meaningfully begun and investment lagged far behind targets. The structural issue still existed: India is overwhelmingly import-dependent for the minerals that anchor the clean-tech stack. A recent assessment by Niti Aayog shows near 100 percent import dependence for lithium, nickel, cobalt and rare-earth elements—exactly the inputs that sit in batteries, electric vehicle motors and wind turbine generators.

This is the context in which we are looking at the just-announced REPM PLI scheme. It makes an improvement by explicitly targeting an integrated midstream chain and recognising raw material constraints. However, more needs to be done with government support for market-making (offtake), bankability (risk-sharing finance) and supply security (feedstock, trade and stockpiles).

The scheme notes that India imports all its sintered neodymium-iron-boron magnet because of missing midstream steps—oxide-to-metal, metal-to-alloy, alloy-to-magnet—and aims to build integrated manufacturing capacities of 6,000 million tonnes per annum. It allocates 600-1,200 MTPA to each of five potential bidders.

The scheme correctly identifies feed stock constraints, but the numbers show a gap. The notification states that the country's existing neodymium-praseodymium oxide (NdPr) production capacity is 400 MTPA with a 500 MT stock, supporting roughly 1,500 MTPA of magnets—thus falling short of the 6,000 MTPA ambition. The scheme offers limited assured supply and the core challenge of oxide availability remains a problem that is pushed onto bidders.

The import-risk dimension is also sharper for magnets than for many other components. Trade data disclosed in Parliament shows that for permanent magnets, import dependency reached 90.4 percent in 2024-25. Bankability hates price volatility. NdPr prices have swung from triple digits to $60 a kg in 2023, traded around the low-50s in mid-2024 and then surged again in 2026. That is not a commodity cycle but a whiplash that can wipe out any financial model.

Given this, five policy actions can be game-changers.

First, the State must guarantee feedstock adequacy and a predictable oxide-to-alloy pathway. The scheme's NdPr allocation needs a time-bound plan to expand domestic availability. The recently-announced rare earth element (REE) corridors are a welcome step, signalling intent to create integrated mining-to-processing ecosystems. Fast-tracking these corridors with plug-and-play infrastructure, streamlined approvals and clear execution timelines would be essential to unlock production.

Complement this by a national push on recycling and circularity through strictly-enforced producer responsibility and targeted incentives and penalties to ensure recovery of rare earths from end-of-life products to augment secondary feedstock supply. These measures are essential to prevent the 6,000-MTPA aspiration from collapsing into a 1,500-MTPA reality.

Second, the State moves to create bankable offtake and not just indicate an expected demand. In strategic sectors like defence, public transport and renewables, government procurement can anchor volumes. Australian and American experiences show that long-term contracts are often a prerequisite for financing new critical-mineral capacity. The REPM PLI needs a structured offtake mechanism with demand aggregation and standardised contracts, not the hope that downstream equipment suppliers will voluntarily pay any early-mover premium.

Third, the State can mitigate price volatility through risk-sharing. Price floors and stockpile-linked stabilisation can convert price uncertainty into an investable revenue curve. Other governments have explicitly used floor prices for NdPr to accelerate supply chains. India should not assume that a least-cost tender can manage a volatile commodity market with dominant global players holding concentrated supply power.

Fourth, urgently build the ecosystem of skilling, testing, standards and leverage plug-and-play industrial commons like the Petroleum, Chemicals and Petrochemicals Investment Regions at Paradeep and Dahej. China has developed more than 400 courses in processing, beneficiation and downstream manufacture. It is imperative that India sees skilling in this area as essential infrastructure and not just training. Government-backed testing and certification, along with targeted skilling, is basic industrial plumbing.

Finally, the National Critical Minerals Mission and the REE corridors adopt a welcome whole-of-government approach. This is a multi-ministry mission across the complete value chain—involving mines, atomic energy, external affairs, petroleum, coal, heavy industries, renewables, electronics & IT, finance, transport, steel, chemicals & petrochemicals, environment & forest and Niti Aayog.

Industrial policy delivery is sub-optimal when each part delivers its piece and no one owns the outcome. Magnets and batteries should be operationally nested into the Critical Minerals Mission and REE corridor architecture with one dashboard, one escalation channel, and one set of milestones that the Cabinet monitors.

If battery PLI taught us anything, it is that aggressive timelines and incentives do not substitute for capability. For India to succeed in establishing resilience in critical mineral and rare earth supply chains and downstream manufacturing, the policy paradigm must treat success as a shared responsibility and obligation. The private sector must invest, build, qualify and improve yields. The State can pull the levers that make those investments deliver outcomes: feedstock access, offtake certainty, trade policy stability, common infrastructure and credible milestone governance.

SELECTING GATEKEEPERS OF MERIT

SANJIV KUMAR
Member, Central Administrative Tribunal and retired IAS officer

THE controversies surrounding the 2025-26 Karnataka Public Service Commission recruitments and calls to abolish the commission in the state Assembly point to a deeper institutional failure. Karnataka's experience is not an aberration—it's a warning to others.

The credibility of a state rests on who runs the machinery of governance once the ballots are counted. Democracies depend on professional civil services to ensure continuity, neutrality and competence. That professionalism, in turn, depends on how recruitment is conducted. When recruitment systems function fairly, governance gains legitimacy. When they falter, the consequences extend far beyond a single examination—eroding public trust in the State itself.

The Constitution created public service commissions (PSCs) as independent authorities. Their purpose was simple yet profound: to insulate recruitment from political influence and ensure that merit—not patronage—determines entry into service.

Yet, Karnataka's experience raises a troubling question: what happens when the guardians of merit themselves repeatedly face allegations of manipulation and political influence?

The disputes over the 2024-25 Karnataka Administrative Service gazetted probationers and 2025 engineering recruitments are not isolated. Recruitment controversies in Karnataka surfaced in 1998, 1999, 2004 and 2011, too. Each episode follows a familiar cycle: allegations emerge, public outrage escalates, courts intervene, reform committees are constituted, procedural safeguards are introduced and, with time, the momentum dissipates. Structural weaknesses remain and the cycle repeats.

This pattern reveals a deeper paradox embedded in the design of PSCs. Constitutional autonomy shields these bodies from external interference. But autonomy alone does not guarantee integrity. The independence that protects them from pressure also shields them from scrutiny. Without strong internal accountability, autonomy risks mutating into institutional impunity.

The 2011 KAS selection, cancelled in 2013 and addressed by the Supreme Court's decision in Avinash C (2018) was restored retrospectively by a law in 2022. It exposed a deeper constitutional tension: should public employment prioritise the integrity of process, or accommodate the interests of beneficiaries of flawed processes?

Reform efforts have not been absent. A committee chaired by former UPSC chairman P C Hota in 2013 recommended procedural safeguards, structured evaluation systems and greater transparency. Some of these measures were implemented. But the most consequential reform—creating a transparent and independent mechanism for appointing commission members—remained unrealised.

This omission lies at the heart of the problem. If those who govern the recruitment institution are themselves appointed without rigorous and transparent scrutiny, procedural reform can't ensure institutional integrity.

X.COM

All states should learn lessons from the recurring controversies at the Karnataka Public Service Commission. The recruitment of those who serve as public recruiters is not too rigorous, but the mechanism to remove them is exceptionally tough. This imbalance needs to be corrected

India's constitutional design is strikingly minimal on appointments. Under Article 316, the Governor appoints members of state PSCs, with only a limited eligibility condition that roughly half must have 10 years of government experience. In practice, this power is exercised on the aid and advice of the council of ministers, often concentrated in the discretion of the chief minister. The result is a process that is neither collective nor transparent, but effectively executive-driven.

In contrast, Article 317 creates a highly stringent removal mechanism. A member can be removed only by the President after an inquiry by the Supreme Court. Judicial precedents in Ram Ashray Yadav (2000) and Mehar Singh Saini (2010) have consistently held that 'misbehaviour' must be established through individual acts and cannot be inferred from general institutional failure. This sets an exceptionally high threshold for removal.

The consequence is a structural imbalance. Entry into the commission is relatively unconstrained; but exit is extraordinarily difficult. The Constitution thus provides a strong shield against arbitrary removal—but a weak mechanism for timely accountability. If the exit gate is so heavily guarded, the entry gate cannot remain porous.

Recruitment to PSCs requires a robust model involving an independent search committee empowered to invite applications, define eligibility and prepare a merit-based shortlist. This should be followed by a plural selection committee comprising representatives of the government, opposition and constitutional authorities. The shortlisted names should be placed before the legislature for a defined period to enable public scrutiny before formal appointment by the Governor.

At the same time, the exit gate must be made workable. Without altering the constitutional framework of Article 317, meaningful improvements are possible. Statutory timelines can be prescribed for each stage of the removal process to prevent delay from defeating accountability. Clear norms governing interim suspension can prevent members facing serious allegations from continuing in office while proceedings are pending. Finally, the evidentiary process can be streamlined so that state-level investigations feed directly into the judicial inquiry.

These reforms do not weaken independence; they restore balance. They ensure that constitutional protection does not become constitutional impunity.

Karnataka's 2025 decision to constitute a search committee for KPSC appointments is a welcome step, but an incomplete one. If such a body remains dominated by the executive, it risks becoming a formal exercise. What is required is not merely a committee, but a credible process.

India team to go to US for resuming trade deal talks

April-end negotiations signal push for stabilising bilateral relations

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and the United States are set to resume negotiations on their proposed interim trade agreement, with an Indian delegation expected to visit Washington later this month.

The latest development signals a renewed push to stabilise the bilateral trade ties after legal and policy disruptions stalled progress on a framework deal earlier this year. US Ambassador to India Sergio Gor confirmed the upcoming visit following discussions with US Trade Representative Jamieson Greer.

"The United States and India have previously agreed to a trade deal, and we look forward to welcoming an Indian delegation to Washington later this month," Gor said. While dates are yet to be finalised, officials here said that the focus will be on translating the earlier understanding into a "workable, feasible and mutually beneficial" interim agreement.

The interim trade deal framework, announced on February 7, had outlined mutual tariff adjustments aimed at easing trade frictions. For India, a key gain was the rollback of an additional 25% tariff imposed by the US over its purchase of Russian crude oil. The proposed arrangement had also included a reduction in reciprocal US tariffs on Indian goods to 18% from 25%, offering a measure of relief to exporters.

However, the trajectory of the agreement was disrupted by a ruling of the US Supreme Court on February 20, which invalidated country-specific tariffs. This forced a reset in US trade policy, complicating the path to finalising the bilateral deal. In response, Washington imposed a uniform 10% additional duty on imports under Section 122 of the Trade Act, a temporary measure aimed at addressing balance of payments concerns. The provision allows such duties for up to 150 days, with a cap of 15%.

Further adding to the complexity, the US has initiated investigations under Section 301 of the Trade Act into trade practices of key partners, including India and the European Union, focusing on policies linked to excess manufacturing capacity and their impact on American industry.

Despite these challenges, diplomatic engagement remains active. India's Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri held talks in Washington with senior US officials, including Jeffrey Kessler and William Kimmitt, which focused on expanding trade and investment, particularly in strategic and emerging technologies, as well as aligning approaches on export controls. As negotiations resume, India is expected to push for retention of tariff advantages over competing economies, with officials saying that a balanced and durable interim agreement.

Focus on a 'mutually beneficial' interim deal

The United States and India have previously agreed to a trade deal, and we look forward to welcoming an Indian delegation to Washington later this month," Sergio Gor said. While dates are yet to be finalised, officials here said that the focus will be on translating the understanding into a "workable, feasible and mutually beneficial" interim deal.

'Access to temples must be open for all'

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE nine-judge Constitution bench of the Supreme Court on Thursday observed that everybody must have access to all temples and mutts, warning that exclusion of any denomination would adversely affect Hinduism and divide society.

The bench, hearing a batch of review pleas challenging the 2018 Sabarimala judgment, made the observation during proceedings that are being closely watched for their potential impact on the outcome of the pending petitions.

"Everybody must have access to every temple and math. Keep aside the controversy in the Sabarimala judgment. But if you say it is a practice and it is a matter of religion, that I will exclude others and only my section, my denomination, will attend the temple, and nobody else. That is not good for Hinduism. Let the religion not be adversely affected. It will be counter-productive for the denomination," stated Justice B V Nagarathna.

It was supported by Justice Aravind Kumar, who said such exclusion would divide society.

The remarks came after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, continued his submissions on the third consecutive day of hearing, defending the restriction on the entry of women of menstruating age into the Kerala temple. Citing examples of varied religious practices, Mehta told the bench, headed by Chief Justice of India Surya Kant, "There are temples, where male priests are under a religious mandate to wash the feet of female devotees. There are temples like the Pushkar temple, the only Brahma temple in the country, where married men are not allowed." He further submitted, "They go to beauty parlours, and their female family members help them dress in sarees and other attire. Only males go there. So it is not a question of male-centric or female-centric religious beliefs. In the present case, it happens to be woman-centric."

The Union government also argued that the 2018 judgment proceeds on the assumption that men are superior and women are on a lower pedestal. Additional Solicitor General K M Nataraj, echoing the Centre's stand, argued that individuals cannot impose personal beliefs on denominational practices. "In many temples, only vegetarian food is served, and a person cannot insist on being served non-vegetarian food on the basis of personal belief; similarly, in temples where liquor is offered as prasad, an individual cannot object to such practices or seek their alteration based on their own conscience," he said.

Advocate C S Vaidyanathan, appearing for organisations including the Nair Service Society, argued that denominational temples can regulate entry and worship. "Articles 25 and 26 are two faces of the same coin of religious right. One is relating to an individual right, the other one relating to institutional right to form an association or to express through as a denomination," he said.

SC concerned over rising cases of child trafficking

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING serious concern over rising cases of child trafficking in the country, the Supreme Court recently directed all states and Union territories to take the matter seriously. It further stressed that the issue involves serious law and order concerns and requires urgent action at the level of state authorities with coordination.

The court said only the state government and its home department can act vigilantly in this regard. "As a court we can monitor, but ultimately the action has to be on the part of the state government, the police, and other agencies. Therefore, this is our humble request", a bench comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and K V Viswanathan said during the hearing of a plea on Wednesday.

The bench was irked over the "lackadaisical" approach of several states and UTs in implementing a 2025 judgment aimed at dismantling organised trafficking networks.

Justice Viswanathan said the retrieval of children in some cases proves the problem can be tackled, but it requires a level of political and administrative will, which is lacking at the moment.

Unseasonal rain, but wheat production looks up

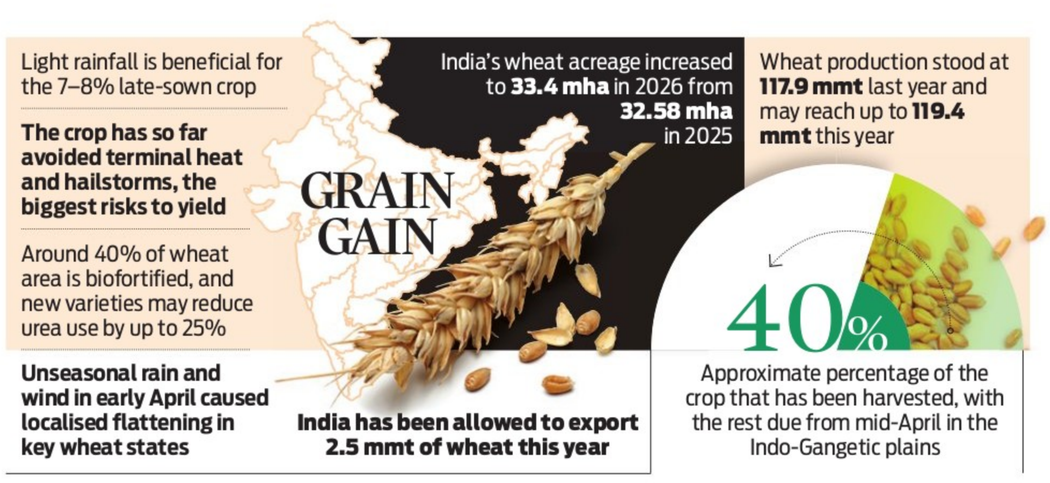
JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

AFTER experiencing warmer weather in February and March, wheat crop is now facing excessive rainfall in the first 10 days of April, raising concerns about potential negative impacts on overall production. However, the government has sets aside the apprehension, claiming that the country will witness more wheat production than before.

During a visit to the Institute of Wheat and Barley Research (IIWBR) in Karnal to assess wheat crop production and research, Dr M L Jat, the Director General of the Indian Council for Agricultural Research (ICAR), said in an interaction with this newspaper that mild rain at this stage is beneficial for wheat crops and that the country is expected to achieve record production.

Excess unseasonal rainfall accompanied by wind lashed different parts of major wheat-producing states like Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Haryana, Rajasthan, Bihar and Gujarat, causing flattening of the standing wheat crop in some pockets.

This year, India's wheat acreage has increased to 33.4 million hectares (mha), compared to 32.58 mha in 2025. The increase in acreage will give India another year of bumper production. Last year, India recorded a total wheat production of 117.9 million metric tones (mmt).



Light rainfall is beneficial for the 7–8% late-sown crop
The crop has so far avoided terminal heat and hailstorms, the biggest risks to yield
Around 40% of wheat area is biofortified, and new varieties may reduce urea use by up to 25%
Unseasonal rain and wind in early April caused localised flattening in key wheat states
India's wheat acreage increased to 33.4 mha in 2026 from 32.58 mha in 2025
GRAIN GAIN
India has been allowed to export 2.5 mmt of wheat this year
Wheat production stood at 117.9 mmt last year and may reach up to 119.4 mmt this year
40%
Approximate percentage of the crop that has been harvested, with the rest due from mid-April in the Indo-Gangetic plains

India has harvested 40% of its total wheat, and the rest, which would start harvesting from mid-April, is in the Indo-Gangetic plains. However, these regions have experienced excess rainfall in the past 10 days. "Wheat crop production and quality are more susceptible to terminal heat and hailstorms, which we have so far not experienced, so our production will be bumper, which can go up to 119.4 mmt," claimed Jat, who was on a visit to Karnal.

Dr Ratan Tiwari, IIWBR Director, explains that the wheat region experienced above-normal temperatures in February and early March, followed by normal to below-normal temperatures. "The phase of terminal heat, which could have negatively impacted the wheat, had gone, and the light rainfall would only help late sowing crops. There are around 7-8% late sowing crops in the country," said Tiwari.

The only disadvantage to the wheat crop is the phase of terminal heat, which has already passed. India has already been allowed to export 2.5 mmt of wheat this year. Besides, the government has invested heavily in climate-resilient varieties, including those for abiotic and biotic stresses.

Jat said that India has invested in the biofortification of wheat. "Currently, India has 40% of biofortified wheat of the total areas which are rich in zinc and proteins, helping India in countering malnutrition," said Jat.

He further informed that the ICAR has also started the Biological Nitrification Inhibition (BNI) project in collaboration with the Japanese government, which will develop a wheat variety that consumes up to 25% lesser urea. While acknowledging the significant progress achieved under the BNI-Wheat initiative, Dr Jat highlighted opportunities to further expand the research scope and impact of the project.

BJP meet today to take a call on Bihar govt formation as Nitish reaches Delhi

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

FOLLOWING Nitish Kumar's taking oath as a Rajya Sabha member on April 10, the BJP is expected to begin internal deliberations on the next phase of governance in Bihar, including the power-sharing arrangement with the Janata Dal (United). Kumar arrived in Delhi on Thursday, signalling the beginning of consultations.

The BJP leadership has summoned both deputy chief ministers for discussions. Party sources suggest that the BJP Legislature Party in Bihar will meet in Patna in the coming days, likely after the appointment of a central observer and a core committee meeting in Delhi. The observer will play a key role in guiding legislators in selecting a leader.

A BJP core committee meeting is scheduled for Friday in Delhi to discuss strategy following Kumar's elevation to the Rajya Sabha and his expected resignation as CM after April 12–13. Speaking in Delhi, Kumar said, "We have already decided and told you everything. We will leave it there and work right here. We will stay right here."

Earlier, BJP president Nitin Nabin stated that there were no differences within the NDA. JD(U) MP Sanjay Jha said that government formation would gain momentum after April 13. Sources indicate that the BJP may decide on the structure of the new government, including whether to continue the existing arrangement with JD(U) and allies. A BJP-led NDA government could take oath around April 15 or 16, with the chief minister likely from the BJP. The JD(U) is reportedly seeking two DCMs and retention of the home department.

There is also speculation that Kumar may join Narendra Modi's Union Cabinet in a future reshuffle. Consultations are ongoing within JD(U), including discussions with Union Minister Rajiv Ranjan Singh.

Samrat, Sinha in the race

Several BJP leaders are being considered as possible successors, including Samrat Choudhary, Vijay Kumar Sinha, Prem Kumar, and Sanjiv Chaurasia. There is also speculation about a surprise choice, possibly a woman leader from the EBC, Dalit, or OBC communities. The BJP is expected to adopt a unified approach, working towards a consensus candidate who can lead.

The BJP is expected to adopt a unified approach, working towards a consensus candidate who can be unanimously chosen to lead the government. This would underline the party's emphasis on organisational discipline and cohesion during a critical political transition. The final decision will shape Bihar's political direction in the coming months.

Centre wakes up to poor quality of DPR leading to highways accidents

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Road Transport and Highways is preparing a fresh push to fix a long-standing weak link in India's infrastructure pipeline-- poorly prepared Detailed Project Reports, or DPRs, that have often been blamed for delays, cost overruns, and even safety risks on highways.

In a new move aimed at tightening oversight and improving accountability, the Ministry plans to introduce annual workshops bringing together DPR consultants and key stakeholders. The idea is to ensure that project blueprints are not only technically sound but also transparent and aligned with on-ground realities from the outset. This comes against the backdrop of repeated criticism of flawed DPRs, documents that form the backbone of highway planning.

Sources said that the proposed workshops will focus on standardising practices, improving coordination, and incorporating feedback from multiple agencies involved in project execution.

The push has also been backed by a Parliamentary panel, which has recommended institutionalising these annual consultations. Importantly, it has stressed mandatory stakeholder engagement at every stage, from initial alignment to final design, including state public works departments and local representatives, to reduce errors early in the process.

Union Minister Nitin Gadkari has been particularly vocal on the issue and repeatedly flagged substandard DPRs as a major concern. He has gone so far as to link faulty project reports to road accidents and fatalities, even suggesting legal action against those responsible for serious lapses.

Along with the administrative reforms, the Ministry is also leaning on technology to improve outcomes. It has recently mandated the use of the Survey of India's advanced Continuously Operating Reference Stations (CORS) network for surveying and mapping. This is expected to enable more accurate data collection, seamless integration of geospatial information, and the adoption of automation in construction.

Further, the Ministry has introduced a ranking system for DPR consultants to drive competition and accountability, while also exploring partnerships with global firms to bring in better expertise and practices.

Lawmakers must rise above differences: Birla

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

LOK Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Thursday urged lawmakers to rise above political differences and serve the public with integrity. He emphasised that younger legislators carry a significant responsibility in helping achieve the national vision of 'Viksit Bharat' (Developed India) by 2047.

The Speaker called for healthy competition among state legislatures to promote public welfare and good governance. Delivering the inaugural address at the first CPA India Region Zone VII Conference, started at Panaji in Goa, Birla said that even in an era shaped by advanced technologies, such as artificial intelligence, human sensitivity remains vital.

He stressed the importance of fulfilling the hopes and aspirations of citizens with diligence and integrity. Birla outlined that elected representatives are entrusted with translating public expectations into concrete action, strengthening democratic institutions, and ensuring governance that is transparent, inclusive, and responsive. He noted that maintaining citizens' trust requires vision, dedication, and an unwavering commitment to public welfare—qualities essential for building a developed, equitable, and self-reliant nation.

States can benefit by sharing best practices: Speaker

Referring to the newly formed Zone VII of the CPA India Region, Birla said that while each state faces distinct challenges, cooperation and collective effort have enabled them to turn these into opportunities for growth. He added that states could benefit by sharing best practices.

Highlighting the role of young lawmakers, Birla said, "Their energy, vision, and commitment could play a transformative part in realising the goal of Viksit Bharat by 2047." He asserted that the contributions by lawmakers are key to ensuring sustainable growth and long-term social progress.

Speaking on the evolving role of legislative institutions, he described parliamentary democracy as one of the most effective systems of governance. He pointed out that the steady rise in voter turnout since 1952 reflects India's strength as a vibrant democracy.

Birla also underlined the importance of research, innovation, and technology, urging legislators to harness scientific advancements to address citizens' concerns effectively. He encouraged them to engage closely with the public, approach issues with empathy, and develop a thorough understanding of legislative rules and procedures. "Those who participate actively in meaningful debates on policies and laws often emerge as influential leaders," Birla said.

The Speaker praised Goa for its vibrant tourism, rich cultural heritage, and dynamic spirit, and highlighted the commitment of CPA Zone VII—which includes Maharashtra, Gujarat, and Goa—to democratic excellence.

PM says TMC turned Bengal into 'factory of infiltrators', Didi blames Centre for not doing job ● Ex-TMC leader blamed for 'sell out' to BJP

Modi and Mamata trade charges over infiltration

SUBHENDU MAITI @ Kolkata

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi and Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee targeted each other in the heat of the Bengal campaign over infiltration on Thursday, turning it into a political flashpoint between them. While Modi accused the Trinamool Congress of turning the state into "a factory of infiltrators" for vote-bank politics, Banerjee questioned Modi why the Centre failed to curb illegal entry when all border-control agencies were under its command, and demanded the resignation of Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

Escalating his attack on the Mamata government, Modi declared that infiltrators would be expelled from the country once the BJP comes to power in West Bengal. Addressing rallies in Haldia and Asansol, he linked infiltration to a broader narrative of alleged misgovernance, corruption and economic decline under the Trinamool Congress.

"Infiltrators will be pushed out of the country after the BJP comes to power in Bengal," Modi said. He alleged that "TMC has made the state a factory of infiltrators for their vote bank politics" and claimed that "they prepare bogus documents so that the number of infiltrators can rise."

The PM also accused the ruling party of depriving local youth of opportunities. "Youths in Bengal are being cheated on two counts — destroying the private sector and looting government posts for money," he said, adding that jobs were being diverted unfairly. He further alleged that the state government even "arranges jobs for infiltrators even if little scopes are there."

Modi targetted the Trinamool Congress over lawlessness, "syndicate raj", corruption, unemployment, closure of industries and concerns over women's safety. He claimed that the state was lagging behind as "the country is walking on the path of progress, while TMC's 'nirmam sarkar' is pulling Bengal back."

Responding sharply hours later, Banerjee turned the infiltration charge back on the Centre, asking at a rally in Baguihati, "What was your (PM) BSF doing to prevent infiltrations? What was the CISF doing? BSF, CISF, Customs, passport, airports, and railways – all are under you. Tell Amit Shah to resign for his failure to stop the illegal infiltration."

Banerjee also countered claims about unemployment, stating, "They are claiming that unemployment has increased in Bengal, but I feel proud to say that the unemployment has come down by 40 percent in our state." She accused the BJP of failing to generate jobs nationally.

NIA files 12 cases in Malda hostage crisis

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Wednesday registered 12 cases to probe the gherao of judicial officers, who were deputed for SIR related work in West Bengal's Malda. The move follows a directive issued by the Supreme Court. In a late-night statement, the NIA said that it has "re-registered 07 FIRs of PS Mothabari and 05 FIRs of PS Kalichak of District Malda, West Bengal for investigation", in compliance with the Supreme Court order on April 6, "relating to the safety and security of judicial officers deputed for work relating to SIR in Malda and related law-and-order incidents".

Kabir sought ₹1K cr from BJP ahead of polls, says TMC

SUBHENDU MAITI @ Kolkata

THE ruling Trinamool Congress in West Bengal on Thursday shared a video purportedly showing Humayun Kabir, leader of the newly floated Aam Janata Unnayan Party, allegedly demanding ₹1,000 crore from the BJP in return for support in the post-election situation.

The video, shared by the Trinamool Congress during a press conference at the party headquarters in Kolkata, has triggered a political row 13 days ahead of the first phase of polls on April 23. The authenticity of the video is yet to be verified.

"BJP can get around 100 to 110 or 120 seats in this election. BJP will not get 148 seats. Every time I had discussions with Suvendu Adhikari, I told him the same and he agreed. I have been told if I can get 70-80 seats, I will be the deputy CM," the person purported to be Humayun Kabir is heard telling a man (not seen on camera) during the 19-minute conversation.

Kabir told the media hours after the video was shared by the TMC, "It is a fake and AI-generated video. It is a planned conspiracy. They (Trinamool) will have to probe it first, otherwise I will file a case in the High Court against them."

The man took the names of at least two BJP CMs, Suvendu Adhikari, BJP MLA, and an unnamed person in the PMO during the conversation, according to the video, 'The Reality of HK' published on YouTube.

'AM FIGHTING FOR JUSTICE FOR ZUBEEN': WIFE ON POLL DAY

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

GARIMA Saikia Garg exercised her democratic right once again on Thursday but the only difference this time was that she was not accompanied by her husband, the late music icon Zubeen Garg.

"Earlier, I would always come along with him to cast my vote," she told media persons after casting her vote in the Dispur Assembly constituency in Guwahati. She did not miss her vote despite being unwell. She was discharged from a hospital only the previous day.

"It is our duty to vote, and that is why, although I am unwell, I have come to vote," said Garima who was accompanied by the singer's sister Palme Borthakur. On justice for Garg, she said, "I am still fighting for it. I hope there is a result soon." She was admitted to the hospital last week after she had complained of blood pressure-related issues.

Garg (52) had died mysteriously on September 19 while swimming in the sea in Singapore. He travelled to the country to perform at the fourth North East India Festival (NEIF). Later, the Assam Special Investigation Team arrested seven persons – NEIF organiser Shyamkanu Mahanta, Garg's manager Siddharth Sharma, DSP cousin Sandipan Garg, personal security officers Nandeswar Bora and Prabin Baishya, bandmate Shekhar Jyoti Goswami and singer Amritprabha Mahanta – in connection with the death. All of them are in judicial custody. The trial started in a fast-track court last month.

For the opposition parties, particularly Congress, justice for Garg was among the biggest poll planks. The demand for justice intensified after Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma had claimed that the singer was murdered as part of a conspiracy.

Garg was virtually a cult figure and the heartthrob of youngsters. Very few people could accept his untimely and mysterious death.

Health cottages to come up in every panchayat

The state government will soon establish "health cottages" in all panchayats to provide accessible treatment and promote a healthier environment. Speaking at a state-level workshop on e-Sanjeevani telemedicine in Ranchi, Health Minister Dr Irfan Ansari said the facilities will be rolled out shortly, alongside Abua medical stores to improve access to medicines. He added that advanced and AI-based technologies will be integrated into the healthcare system for overall improvement. A dedicated monitoring cell will also be set up to ensure quality services, while a new policy will be introduced to streamline blood availability.

BJP to launch protests over language row

Amid the ongoing language controversy in Jharkhand, the BJP's youth wing has announced a large-scale agitation, set to begin in Palamu with participation from thousands of youths. The move follows the decision to designate Nagpuri and Kudukh as local languages for the Jharkhand Eligibility Test in Palamu, Garhwa, and Latehar districts, despite Bhojpuri, Nagpuri, and Angika being widely spoken in the region. The BJP has termed it "step-motherly treatment" towards the Palamu region. On Friday, the BJP Yuva Morcha will stage a protest, after which the agitation will be expanded across the state and taken to Ranchi.

Lawyer not allowed to practise for two years

Following a two-year imprisonment pronounced by a Ranchi court on March 31, Jharkhand State Bar Council has barred Advocate Mahesh Tiwari from practicing law for two years. The embargo will be effective from the date of passing of order of conviction. The incident dates back to May 1, 2012, when the complainant was coming out of Court No. 5 of the Jharkhand High Court. According to the prosecution, Tiwari confronted her, made objectionable remarks linked to her Bar Council election win and physically assaulted her. Notably, Tiwari has also been in the news recently for his "don't cross the limit" remark against an HC judge.

Two babus suspended in ₹590 cr bank scam

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Haryana government on Thursday suspended two IAS officers in connection with the ₹590 crore IDFC First and AU Small Finance Bank scam as the investigation intensifies.

Chief Secretary Anurag Rastogi issued orders for the suspension of Ram Kumar Singh, a 2012 batch IAS officer posted as Additional CEO of Panchkula Metropolitan Development Authority and Revenue and Disaster Management Department, and Pardeep Kumar, a 2011 batch officer posted as Director of State Transport and Special Secretary to the Transport Department, for their alleged role in the scam, sources said, adding no reason was given for the suspensions.

CBI case

The CBI has registered a case in the scam based on the FIR filed by Haryana Vigilance and Anti-Corruption Bureau.

Singh was posted as Municipal Commissioner of Panchkula from July 10 last year to January 28 this year, during which the alleged misappropriation of funds took place. Kumar had served as Member Secretary of the Haryana State Pollution Control Board from August 31, 2022 to December 10 last year. Sources said the names of these officers figured in the investigations by the Haryana State Vigilance and Anti-Corruption Bureau into the IDFC First Bank scam. Official records reveal that Singh owns properties worth ₹3.22 crore. Kumar owns joint assets with his wife worth ₹7.03 crore.

Ex-IAS officer held for govt scheme scam

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a key development in the ₹960-crore Jal Jeevan Mission scam, the Rajasthan Anti-Corruption Bureau arrested former IAS officer Subodh Agarwal from Delhi after weeks on the run. He had gone into hiding after an ACB court issued arrest warrants in February against four accused.

Teams conducted raids at multiple locations and after receiving intelligence, finally traced him. Officials said he was apprehended in Delhi, though his lawyer claimed he had informed the agency about his appearance.

Arrest likely

Authorities said arrests are likely as efforts continue to trace the remaining accused and uncover deeper links.

Earlier, the court warned that if the warrant was not executed, proceedings to attach properties could begin. Since the probe started in 2024, 11 accused have been arrested, while three remain absconding. Agarwal has been brought to Jaipur for further questioning.

The investigation found fake bills, financial irregularities, and tender manipulation. Firms allegedly used forged completion certificates in the name of IRCON International to secure contracts. Certificates worth nearly ₹960 crore were used, pointing to large-scale corruption and siphoning.

Cong Maha U-turn on Baramati bypoll

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Congress withdrew its candidate Akash More from Akash against Deputy Chief Minister Sunetra Pawar in the Baramati by-election on the last day of withdrawal on Thursday. However, the spouse of former DCM Ajit Pawar, whose death necessitated the poll, will not be elected unopposed as 23 candidates still remain in the fray.

As many as 30 candidates also withdrew on the last day, yet 23 remaining candidates ensure a contest. Voting will be held on April 23, with counting scheduled for May 5, 2026. In Rahuri, seven candidates are contesting the bypoll.

State Congress president Harshvardhan Sapkal said Sunetra Pawar personally called him twice and also spoke to Congress in-charge Ramesh Chennithala, requesting that no Congress candidate be fielded so she could win unopposed.

"We were firm in contesting the Baramati bypolls as an ideological contest against the BJP, but we received several phone calls and requests from the NCP and NCP SP. Therefore, the Congress party, showing high morale value and culture, decided to respond positively by withdrawing the Congress candidate nomination from the Baramati bypolls," Sapkal said.

He added: "Ajit Pawar started his political career in the Congress party and spent a long time in alliance with Congress; therefore, respecting larger public sentiments and as a tribute to Ajit Pawar, the Congress has taken the decision not to contest the elections. We have shown our culture this way. However, our ideological fight against the BJP will continue."

Senior party leaders, including Akash More, were consulted before the decision, Sapkal said, iterating that Congress expects the NCP to reconsider its alliance with the BJP.

CM Devendra Fadnavis reportedly called Sapkal urging withdrawal to enable unopposed win. Earlier, NCP-SP MLA Rohit Pawar met Sapkal, discussed the probe into the Ajit Pawar air crash, and thanked him for registering an FIR in Karnataka. Later, MP Supriya Sule also urged withdrawal, citing Ajit Pawar's contributions.

Meanwhile, the BJP released a list of 40 star campaigners for Baramati and Rahuri. The list includes Devendra Fadnavis, Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, and state BJP president Ravindra Chavan.

Fadnavis, Supriya Sule dial Sakpal for withdrawal

Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis reportedly called Sapkal urging withdrawal to enable unopposed win. Earlier, NCP-SP MLA Rohit Pawar met Sapkal, discussed the probe into the Ajit Pawar aircraft incident, and thanked him for registering an FIR in Karnataka.

Hope beckons as education reaches 35 children in small J'khand hamlet

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

BRINGING a ray of hope to families in Bidikai village of Khunti district of Jharkhand, a makeshift school was formally inaugurated with the support of Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Ranchi, on Thursday. The initiative has paved the way for primary education for 35 children, who were earlier deprived of formal schooling learning opportunity due to the absence of a school in the village.

This newspaper published a report on December 24 about how the village had no access to roads and schools, leaving the students without formal education. IIM-Ranchi took note of the report and stepped in. The decision was taken following a field visit done by a team of IIM-Ranchi headed by assistant professor Gaurav Marathe a week after the report was published.

No roads, no schools: Modern facilities merely a dream in Jharkhand's Budikai village

TNIE reported on Dec 24, 2025

Thanks to this newspaper for highlighting the issue. After reading about the problem, the IIM-Ranchi management decided to help the village

Gaurav Marathe, Assistant professor, IIM-Ranchi

Students and professors of the IIM raised funds to construct an asbestos-roofed shed at a cost of approximately ₹15,000, while the villagers completed the construction work by sourcing timber from the forest and contributing their own labour.

Bikikai was once under the influence of Maoists and till now did not have access to basic amenities, including a school. As a result, not a single villager has cleared Class X examination so far. The most educated person of the village, Bogan Hans, will teach students three hours daily in the new school, for which, he will get ₹5,000 every month from the IIM.

Marathe said that funds to start the school were collected under a programme "Joy of Giving" by the students. "Thanks to this newspaper for highlighting the issue. After reading about the problem, the IIM-Ranchi management decided to help the village," he said.

Three youths arrested from Bihar's Buxar for plotting attack on Modi

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THREE youths have been arrested from Bihar's Buxar district for allegedly making attempts to obtain confidential information from the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) in New Delhi and plotting an attack on PM Narendra Modi.

A special investigation team (SIT) was constituted following secret information about them. The accused, who were picked up from Asha Parari village under the Simri police station limits of Dumraon sub-division in Buxar, were reportedly in touch with intelligence agencies of foreign countries.

Senior police officers said that the accused had hatched a conspiracy to carry out an attack on PM Modi in the coming weeks. Police recovered a laptop and other electronic gadgets during the raids conducted late on Wednesday.

Buxar SP Shubham Arya confirmed the arrest of the youths and said that the accused were being questioned at an undisclosed location. An initial investigation suggests that the trio had contacted people associated with the US' Central Intelligence Agency.

"The antecedents of the accused are being ascertained. A preliminary investigation has revealed that one of the accused, Aman Kumar, has earlier been arrested in connection with a cyberfraud case. Further interrogation will throw light on their connections abroad," SP said.

Iran announces alternate Hormuz routes over sea mine risks in main zone

IRAN announced alternative routes on Thursday for ships travelling through the Strait of Hormuz, citing the risk of sea mines in the main zone of the vital waterway. Tehran has agreed to temporarily reopen the strait, through which one-fifth of the world's oil usually passes, as part of a two-week truce. "All ships intending to transit the Strait of Hormuz are hereby notified that in order to comply with the principles of maritime safety and to be protected from possible collisions with sea mines...they should take alternative routes for traffic in the Strait of Hormuz," Iran's Revolutionary Guards said in a statement quoted by local media. The statement shared instructions for an alternative entry and exit route through the strait. The United States and Iran agreed to a two-week ceasefire overnight from Tuesday to Wednesday, less than an hour before US President Donald Trump's deadline to obliterate the Islamic republic if it did not bow to his demands for a deal to reopen the Strait of Hormuz. Tehran had effectively blocked the key shipping route since early March, sending global energy prices spiralling. AFP

Ceasefire tested as Israel strikes Beirut, clouds shaky peace talks

Lebanese first responders use a digger to search under the rubble at the site of an Israeli airstrike that targeted a building the day before in Beirut's Corniche al-Mazraa neighbourhood | AFP

DUBAI

A tentative ceasefire in the Iran war staggered on Thursday under the weight of Israel's bombardment of Beirut, Tehran's continued chokehold on the Strait of Hormuz and uncertainty over whether planned peace talks can find common ground.

Iran and the US — which both declared victory after the ceasefire announcement — appeared to apply pressure. Semiofficial news agencies in Iran suggested forces have mined the Strait of Hormuz, a crucial waterway for oil that Tehran has closed. President Donald Trump, meanwhile, warned that US forces would hit Iran harder than before if it did not fulfill the agreement.

WAR WATCH

And there was disagreement over whether the ceasefire deal included a pause in fighting between Israel and Hezbollah. Israel on Wednesday pounded Beirut with airstrikes, resulting in the deadliest day in Lebanon since the war began on February 28.

Questions also remained over what will happen to Iran's stockpile of enriched uranium at the heart of tensions, how and when normal traffic will resume through the strait, and what happens to Iran's ability to launch future missile attacks and support armed proxies in the region.

Iran warns of truce violations

Iran's parliament speaker said on Thursday that Lebanon was a key part of the two-week ceasefire with the United States, warning that violations would bring severe consequences, following massive Israeli strikes on Lebanon.

"Lebanon and the entire Resistance Axis, as Iran's allies, form an inseparable part of the ceasefire," Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf said in a post on X.

Ghalibaf cautioned against violations of the truce, a day after Israeli strikes on Lebanon killed more than 200 people.

"Ceasefire violations carry explicit costs and STRONG responses," he said.

Rejects uranium curbs

The head of Iran's nuclear energy agency on Thursday ruled out any restrictions on the country's enrichment of uranium, saying the demand by the United States and Israel "will not come true". "The claims and demands of our enemies to restrict Iran's enrichment programme are merely wishes that will be buried," Mohammad Eslami was quoted as saying by Iran's ISNA news agency.

His remarks came with talks set to take place at the end of the week between Iran and the United States under Pakistani mediation. "All the conspiracies and actions of our enemies, including this brutal war, have yielded no results. Now they seek to achieve something through negotiations," Eslami said.

EU opposes Hormuz tolls

The EU said Thursday that freedom of navigation in the Strait of Hormuz must be ensured with "no payment or toll whatsoever", after Iran suggested it could charge for letting ships through.

A full reopening of the vital Gulf waterway remains a key point of contention as talks are due to start after Iran and the United States announced a two-week ceasefire following over a month of hostilities.

"International law provides for the freedom of navigation, which means... basically no payment or toll whatsoever," European Commission spokesman Anouar El Anouni told a press conference in Brussels.

"Freedom of navigation is a public good and needs to be ensured," he said.

Iran agreed to reopen the thoroughfare during the two-week truce but has also spoken of setting up a toll system, which would allow it to fund its reconstruction. AP/AFP

China denies reports of military support to Iran

BEIJING: China's Defence Ministry on Thursday denied reports that Chinese firms supplied satellite imagery and semiconductor equipment to Iran's military during the US-Israeli conflict. Spokesperson Zhang Xiaogang rejected claims involving SMIC and a Chinese satellite company, calling them "speculative" and "disinformation." He also dismissed US allegations that China and Russia supported Iran, stressing Beijing's "objective and impartial" stance. Zhang said China has consistently pushed for peace talks and "never added fuel to the fire," while accusing others of creating conflicts despite claiming otherwise.

Israel says journo killed in Gaza was Hamas militant

JERUSALEM: The Israeli military said an Al Jazeera journalist killed in a Gaza strike was a Hamas militant operating "under the guise of a journalist." Mohammed Wishah died in a strike on his vehicle, which Al Jazeera condemned as a deliberate attack on media workers. Reporters Without Borders said over 220 journalists have been killed in Gaza in recent years. Israel claimed Wishah was linked to Hamas's weapons unit and planning attacks, citing recovered materials. Al Jazeera has not responded to the allegations and vowed legal action. Despite a ceasefire, violence continues, with both sides accusing each other of violations.

IMF expects immediate aid demand could reach up to $50 billion globally

WASHINGTON

THE International Monetary Fund expects to have to provide up to $50 billion in immediate financial assistance to countries affected by the Middle East war, its managing director said on Thursday, with the crisis likely to have lasting economic effects.

"Given the spillovers of the Middle East war, we expect near-term demand for IMF balance-of-payments support to rise to somewhere between $20 billion and $50 billion, with the lower bound prevailing if the ceasefire holds," Kristalina Georgieva said, according to prepared remarks shared with AFP. She added that food insecurity due to transport and supply chain disruptions caused by the war was expected to affect at least 45 million people.

"Even in a best case, there will be no neat and clean return to the status quo ante," she said, as a fragile ceasefire appeared to hold on Thursday.

The IMF chief was kicking off the annual Spring Meetings co-hosted by the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank in Washington, which bring together top economic policymakers from around the world.

Food insecurity risks rise

In a new report this week, the IMF detailed the economic costs of war, estimating that output in countries where fighting takes place drops by three percent at the outset, "and continues falling for years." An earlier report on the Iran war said "all roads lead to higher prices and slower growth," and highlighted the impact of a severely disrupted fertilizer supply chain on food security. Low-income nations face rising food insecurity, may need more aid despite declining support. AFP

Netanyahu authorises Lebanon talks, aims to disarm Hezbollah

DUBAI

ISRAELI Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on Thursday that he has authorised direct negotiations with Lebanon "as soon as possible," as a tentative ceasefire in the Iran war staggered under the weight of Israel's bombardment of Beirut. Netanyahu said he gave the order in response to requests from Lebanon and that talks would focus on disarming Hezbollah and establishing peaceful relations between the neighbouring countries. He welcomed a call by Lebanon's prime minister to demilitarise Beirut.

Meanwhile, Lebanon wants a ceasefire before starting any negotiations with Israel, a Lebanese government official told AFP on Thursday, after Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said he had ordered his cabinet to begin direct talks with Beirut. "Lebanon wants a ceasefire before starting negotiations," said the official, who has knowledge of the talks and requested anonymity. There was disagreement over whether the ceasefire deal included a pause in fighting between Israel and Hezbollah.

Despite the fragile and disputed nature of the ceasefire, it appeared to have halted weeks of missile and drone attacks by Iran on its Gulf Arab neighbours and Israel, with no new launches reported Thursday. There were no reports of strikes by the US or Israel targeting Iran.

Beirut evacuation warning

Israel's military on Thursday warned residents of Beirut's southern suburbs, long a stronghold of Lebanese militant group Hezbollah, of imminent strikes and called for them to evacuate. "The Israel Defense Forces continue to operate and strike the military infrastructure belonging to the terrorist organisation Hezbollah across various areas of the southern suburbs," the military's Arabic-language spokesman Avichay Adraee said on X. "The IDF does not intend to harm you and is acting only against Hezbollah operatives and military targets. Therefore, for your safety, you must evacuate immediately."

The warning came a day after Israel carried out its largest wave of strikes since the start of its war with Hezbollah on March 2, killing more than 200 people. While Israel regularly issues evacuation warnings before bombing Beirut's southern suburbs, Thursday's announcement also included the outskirts of Lebanon's only international airport. AFP

TCS Q4 profit up 12% on deal wins, AI revenue growth

● Net profit rises to ₹13,718 crore as there were no exceptional costs ● Top performers to get double-digit pay hike at Tata Consultancy Services

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

IT major Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) on Thursday reported a 12% year-on-year rise in consolidated net profit for the March quarter, driven by steady revenue growth, strong deal wins and higher contribution from AI-led services.

The company posted a net profit of ₹13,718 crore as against ₹12,224 crore in the same period last year. The bottomline rose 5% sequentially.

Revenue from operations for the January–March quarter came in at ₹70,698 crore, a 10% rise from ₹64,479 crore a year ago, while the revenue rose 5.4% quarter-on-quarter.

The sharp sequential rise in profit during the Q4 also came due to the absence of exceptional costs that had affected the December quarter. In the previous quarter, TCS had reported charges related to restructuring, statutory impact of new labour codes and provisions towards a legal claim.

For the full financial year ended March 31, 2026, TCS reported a consolidated net profit of ₹52,820 crore, up nearly 9% as against the previous year. Revenue for FY26 rose 4.6% YoY to ₹267,021 crore from ₹255,324 crore.

Meanwhile, operating performance remained stable. Operating margin for the quarter stood at 25.3%, up 10 basis points sequentially. For the full year, operating margin was 25%, up 70 basis points YoY, highest in the last four years.

Deal activity improved during the quarter, with total contract value at $12 billion, compared with $9.3 billion in the previous quarter. For full year, total contract value stood at $40.7 billion, among the highest ever reported by the company.

Annual AI revenue crossed $2.3 billion in the quarter, up from $1.8 billion in the December quarter, reflecting continued demand for AI-led transformation services.

K Krithivasan, CEO and MD, said in the post-results statement: "We are pleased to report the third consecutive quarter of sequential growth, supported by three mega deals and a $12 billion TCV, underscoring the strength of our five pillar strategy and our AI led positioning across services. It is equally encouraging that this momentum was broad based across major markets and most industries."

Aarthi Subramanian, executive director, president and COO, said: "FY26 marked a pivotal year for enterprise AI adoption. In Q4, our annualized AI revenues surpassed $2.3 billion, driven by the accelerated deployment of AI solutions."

In the March quarter, the total headcount increased by 2,356 to 584,519 from 582,163 in the previous quarter.

Sudeep Kunnumal, chief HR officer, said: "We are pleased to implement annual salary increases across all grades effective 1st April. In Q4, we continued to invest in a future-ready workforce with strong additions across experienced talent and campus hires."

TCS also announced a final dividend of ₹31 per equity share for FY26, subject to shareholder approval.

Firm announces salary increments across grades

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

TATA Consultancy Services (TCS) on Thursday announced annual salary increments for all eligible employees across grades, effective April 1, the company's management said in the post-earnings analyst call.

The hikes would apply across the workforce, with stronger rewards for top performers. "We have announced annual increments to all eligible employees across grades, effective April 1, the top performance getting a double-digit increase," the management said during the earnings call.

The update comes after what management described as a period of improving business momentum. The company also reported its third consecutive quarter of sequential growth and said client demand in artificial intelligence and large transformation deals remained strong.

While the company didn't disclose the percentage increase for all employees, it made clear in the quarterly report that compensation revisions are linked to its broader focus on building a "future-ready organisation".

The firm said it continued investment in skills and training. As per the company management, 69 million learning hours were completed in FY26, while 270,000 associates possess advanced proficiencies in AI and machine learning. The salary hike announcement comes alongside continued hiring in specialised areas like AI, data, cloud, cybersecurity, digital engineering, and consulting.

Mercedes luxury vehicle sales increase 25% in Jan-March

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ON the back of strong demand for top-end luxury vehicles (starting ex-showroom price of ₹1.4 crore), Mercedes-Benz reported its best-ever fiscal sales, with 19,363 units retailed in FY26 (up from 18,928 units in FY25). Going forward, the German brand expects to clock single-digit growth despite geopolitical and macroeconomic headwinds.

The company also claimed of mainting leadership in the luxury car market during the January-March quarter by retailing 5,131 units, up 7% (Q1 2025: 4775 units). On Wednesday, BMW had posted 17% year-on-year (YoY) sales growth to 4,567 units in Q1 of calendar year 2026.

Mercedes-Benz's top-end luxury segment that comprises models like S-Class, Mercedes-Maybach, EQS SUV and the AMG range continued its high growth trajectory. Top-end luxury segment sales grew by a 25% in Q1 of 2026 and by 16% in FY26. In FY26, 27% of all luxury cars sold by Mercedes in India were 'top-end luxury' vehicles.

Mercedes-Benz's 'core' segment also contributed to the sales performance in FY26 and in Q1, 2026. The core segment includes models such as C-Class, E-Class LWB sedans, GLC and GLE SUVs. The long Wheelbase E-Class remains the highest-selling luxury car in India.

Mercedes-Benz's entry luxury models are defined by strong product content and a superior value proposition. In FY 2025–26, the segment saw an 18% decline within a market increasingly dominated by lower-price products supported by deep discounting, said the automaker.

Exporters fear goods exports in FY26 likely to decline by 2-3%

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

INDIA'S overall merchandise exports for FY26 are likely to decline by 2-3% or more, exporters fear. Due to the ongoing West Asia crisis, there has been a significant fall in merchandise exports in March, which is expected to pull down the overall export figures. With exports weakening, some exporters warn of a potential capital crunch if the conflict does not subside within a few weeks.

"Due to logistical challenges and uncertainty in key trade routes, India's exports in March will be lower. Overall merchandise exports could decline by 2-3% due to the crisis in West Asia," said Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO) President SC Ralhan.

Exporters across sectors such as textiles, auto parts and electrical goods have flagged concerns over a liquidity crunch due to declining exports. Labour-intensive and tariff-hit sectors such as textiles and apparel have been the worst hit, and their overall export figures could fall in double digits in the current financial year.

We had significant exposure to West Asia. With shipment delays, cash liquidity will be impacted

Sanjoo Tandon, VP, Eastman

Sanjoo Tandon, vice-President (international business) at Eastman, an exporter of forging, machining and casting parts, said: "We had significant exposure to West Asia. Nearly 10% of our exports go to Dubai. With shipment delays, cash liquidity will be impacted." According to him, exports declined by 7–10% in March alone.

Despite the gloomy outlook, Ralhan said strong services exports could cushion weak goods shipments and keep India's overall exports in positive territory. A brief ceasefire may offer short-term relief, allowing cargo to reach West Asia within week-long transit times.

However, he cautioned that the situation remains fragile and advised exporters against taking fresh risks. India's merchandise exports during FY2024-25 (April–March) stood at $437.42 billion, while exports during April–February of FY2026 reached $402.93 billion. The government has introduced several measures to support exporters, including the launch of the Resilience & Logistics Intervention for Export Facilitation (RELIEF) scheme (about ₹497 crore), specifically aimed at MSME exporters.

Market tumbles on ceasefire worries

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity markets snapped a five-day winning streak on April 9, witnessing profit booking after the sharp rally in the previous session. Investors turned cautious over the reports emerging from the West Asia ceasefire. The Sensex fell 931 points (-1.20%) to settle the Thursday session at 76,631, while the Nifty fell 222 points (-0.93%) to close at 23,775.

Siddhartha Khemka, head of research, Wealth Management, Motilal Oswal Financial Services said sentiment is likely to remain cautious until further details on ceasefire, with negotiations expected over the weekend.

"Markets are expected to remain sensitive to news flow on geopolitical front, while a gradual up-move may resume once more clarity emerges from outcome of the negotiations...Adding to the pressure, fresh geopolitical concerns resurfaced, after US President Donald Trump reiterated that American forces would remain deployed around Iran until a "real agreement" is implemented," said Khemka.

Weak global cues and persistent FII outflows (₹37,934 cr in April) weighed on sentiment and liquidity. The rupee depreciated to 92.8/USD, and a rise in India VIX indicated elevated volatility. Khemka added that signals of potential ceasefire breaches and continued Israeli strikes in Lebanon have heightened uncertainty, further dampening investor risk appetite. While near-term support may emerge from easing West-Asia tensions and stable crude prices, the sustainability of any recovery will depend on clarity around the US-Iran situation, movement in energy prices and improvement in liquidity conditions, he said.

Broader markets remained relatively resilient on Thursday, with the Nifty Midcap index advancing 0.3%, while the Small cap index ended largely flat. On the sectoral front, oil & gas, PSU banks, auto, infra, consumer durables, and private banks saw selling pressure.

Morgan Stanley sees Sensex at 95,000 by Dec

Despite the drastic fall in capital market in recent weeks on the back on foreign investors sell-offs, Wall Street major Morgan Stanley is bullish on Dalal Street this year, predicting a whopping 24% upside to the Sensex at 95,000 by December-end.

Govt directs port authorities to pass on concessions to exporters without delay

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Directorate General of Shipping (DGS) has directed all ports and shipping stakeholders to directly pass on all the concessions granted directly to exporters without delays, to ease the cost pressure amid the ongoing West Asia crisis.

In an advisory issued on Wednesday, the DGS flagged that several relief measures such as waivers on detention charges and ground rent — as some ships got routed via a chain of intermediaries — haven't reached exporters efficiently. The Centre said exporters have failed to reap the benefits and their impact has been diluted.

"Terminal charges are not being uniformly passed on to the exporters. The terminal operators are charging the non-vessel operating common carriers (NVOCC), and concessional benefits are passed on only via reimbursements. This circuitous process delays the concession reaching the exporters," said the DGS in its notification. These intermediaries, in turn, are required to reflect the reduced costs transparently in charges levied on exporters.

The advisory bars the current practice of post-facto claims or procedural reimbursements, which often lead to uncertainty and delays. Ports have been instructed to establish clear communication highlighting the extent and duration of concessions in detail to ensure that all stakeholders are adequately informed. Shipping lines will have to properly document any additional charges arising from cargo diversions or discharge at alternate ports, with informal levies set to be disallowed for claims.

LPG SUPPLY REMAINS STABLE, SAYS GOVT

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIA'S LPG supply remains stable, with vessels continuing to arrive via the Strait of Hormuz despite recent geopolitical tensions, Petroleum Secretary Neeraj Mittal said on Thursday.

Mittal, speaking at a conference on energy security and India's growing gas demand, said ships have been continuously arriving through the strait despite concerns over disruptions.

"I don't see any problem anywhere. All domestic supplies are at 100%... ships have been continuously coming even when there was a blockage. It takes its normal travel time. We are not talking about any delay in crossing the Strait," he said. He noted that nearly 90% of India's crude imports pass through the Strait of Hormuz, making it a critical route for the country's energy security. India currently sources crude oil from 41 countries, natural gas from 30 countries, and LPG from 13 countries, which must be considered in future policy planning.

Referring to recent developments in West Asia, Mittal said the crisis highlights the need to remain prepared for disruptions even when systems appear stable.

High-value transactions to be delayed by 1 hour

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has proposed a set of new safeguards for digital payments, including a one-hour delay for certain transactions, mandatory additional authentication for vulnerable users, caps on credits into bank accounts, and a universal kill switch to block transactions, as it looks to curb a sharp rise in online frauds.

In a discussion paper released on Thursday, the central bank outlined four key proposals that seek to introduce targeted friction in high-risk transactions while preserving the ease of low-value digital payments.

At the core of the proposals is the introduction of a mandatory time lag for authorised push payment (APP) transactions above ₹10,000. Under this framework, such transactions would be delayed by up to one hour at the payer's end, allowing customers to cancel transfers during this cooling-off window. The RBI said this could help disrupt fraudsters who rely on urgency and psychological pressure, and provide a critical window for detection and intervention.

Another key proposal is the introduction of additional authentication via a trusted person for high-value transactions by vulnerable sections such as senior citizens and persons with disabilities. For transactions above ₹50,000, these users may need approval from a nominated individual before funds can be transferred. The measure is aimed at reducing losses from impersonation and coercion-based frauds, which disproportionately affect such groups.

The RBI has proposed tighter controls on bank accounts to tackle the growing use of mule accounts. It has suggested capping annual credits at about ₹25 lakh for accounts without enhanced due diligence, with any excess inflows subject to verification. Funds beyond the threshold may be held as shadow credits and released only after the bank is satisfied about their legitimacy, failing which they could be reversed within a specified timeframe.

In addition, the RBI has proposed expanding customer-driven security controls across all digital payment channels, including UPI, cards, and net banking. These would include the ability to switch payment modes on or off, set transaction limits, and activate a kill switch to instantly disable all digital transactions in case of suspected fraud.

RBI mulls delayed digital transfers above ₹10,000

'Offer real-time info on cross-border payments'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

TO bring in more efficiency in cross-border payments, the Reserve Bank has asked banks to make near real-time notification to customers about their inward transactions immediately on receipt of inward message.

The RBI on Thursday issued new circular on cross-border payments aligning them with the G20 road map that has set targets for achieving cheaper, faster, transparent, and accessible cross-border payments,

Noting that the speed of the cross-border payments is affected by several factors, the RBI under its 'Payments Vision' plans said one of the challenges with speed of payments is experienced at the beneficiary leg that's the time taken from receipt of the payment at the beneficiary bank till credit to the beneficiary account.

The slew of changes, which will become effective six months from now comes after a review of the extant process for inward cross-border payments, which indicated the need for streamlining the processes at the beneficiary bank to ensure timely intimation of payment information and credit to the beneficiary account. "Messages received after close of operating hours of banks shall be informed to customer immediately at the start of the next business day," RBI said.

Hansika and Neha clinch bronze; Meenakshi in final

Hansika Lamba and Neha won a bronze medal each in the women's 55kg and 59kg class, respectively, while two-time national champion Meenakshi Goyat came back from the brink to beat South Korea's Seoyoung Park and reach the final of the 53kg category at the Senior Asian Wrestling Championships in Bishkek (Kyrgyzstan) on Thursday.

Fantastic four: Women pugilists table-toppers in Asian C'ships

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

A BUNCH of talented boxers from India, each with their unique set of narratives, were looking to stand tall in Sukhbaatar District, Ulaanbaatar (Mongolia), on Thursday. Minakshi Hooda (48kg) and Jaismine Lamboria (57kg) were looking to solidify their No 1 status while Preeti Sai Pawar (54kg) and Arundhati Choudhary (70kg), after a predominantly frustrating 2025 due to off-the-ring issues, were looking to show their high aptitude in the ongoing Asian Championships.

As the dust settled, as many as four women pugilists, including the trio of Minakshi, Preeti and Arundhati, walked away with the gold medal. Jaismine, on a comeback trail after shoulder concerns, missed out on the top step but through the course of the continental event, the reigning world champion did enough to suggest that she's a force to be reckoned with. Railways boxer Priya Ghanghas (60kg) also signed off her fairytale campaign on a high.

Alfiya Pathan (+80kg), the sixth boxer from the country to feature on the final day of the women's category, lost her first and only fight in the competition to grab silver. More importantly, the women, as a collective unit, left a strong footprint. The team topped the medals chart while China and Kazakhstan grabbed two gold medals each. Chinese Taipei and Thailand won one gold apiece.

Arundhati's talent has never been in doubt but the former world youth champ, one of the rare boxers from Rajasthan, had concerns about her weight category (earlier 70kg was not part of the Olympic programme) and she had to tussle with a proven force in Lovlina Borgohain for 75kg at the start of her senior career. To add to her misery, she had suffered a wrist injury and was forced to undergo surgery last year. It was somewhat a similar tale for Preeti, a boxer who's considered to have a high ceiling.

Priya Ghanghas | Arundhati Choudhary | Preeti Pawar | Minakshi Hooda

But both have gradually made their way back and this is a timely boost for the duo. Among many things, one thing in common between the two is they both train at the famed Army Sports Institute (ASI), Pune under the watch of coaches like Chhote Lal Yadav, who's more renowned for coaching sport's great MC Mary Kom. In fact, Jaismine is also a trainee at the ASI. Yadav, along with the support from Mohammed Aitesamuddin — who's with the team in Ulaanbaatar — and former Commonwealth Games medallist Devendro Singh, have had a big influence in their game.

Having been part of their uphill challenges, Yadav, who had been regularly giving them inputs through phone calls, is delighted to see them thrive. Yadav recalled the times when Arundhati was forced to rebuild post surgery. "She was doing smart training, bit by bit and for one year or so, she was mainly using just one hand. It was a tricky spell as we wanted to prevent any further injury. We also worked on her shortcomings and we were also watching fights of every boxer in her weight category, and working accordingly," he said, noting that Arundhati's venomous punching power is one of her strengths. The coach said that they (coaches) try to keep an open mind, catering to the strengths of the boxers. "I also wanted her to talk to the head coach and find out about his plans. What's their thought-process, their strategies? If it's any different, work on it. I have tried to keep things flexible. The boxer should take forward whichever strategy works best for her."

Discipline is sine qua non at the ASI and Yadav also said that the coaches give tailored training programmes for each individual. Besides sparring sessions with boys, which is far from uncommon, has helped them become stronger and sharper.

CSK should bring in Akeal, Brevis in playing XI: Balaji

Ex-India player believes Hosein can replace either Overton or Henry

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

FIVE-time champion Chennai Super Kings have had a miserable start this season in the IPL having lost three games in a row. The big question in every fan's mind is can CSK bounce back? "Yes, we can get back to winning ways," Lakshmipathy Balaji, former CSK pacer and bowling coach, told this daily.

L Balaji

The former India medium pacer, who was part of the CSK support staff when they won the titles in 2018 and 2021, is optimistic about a turnaround. Balaji admitted that the team will be emotionally drained after the three losses and said the onus will be on captain Ruturaj Gaikwad to lift the morale. "I think the one thing that is very important is to get the dressing room in good space, especially when you are losing. The dressing room is obviously somewhere where you start feeling disoriented. So keep the dressing room in a healthy space. And clarity. Clarity for each and everyone, especially from the support staff group. Right from Ruturaj and the entire support staff need to come together," added the former Tamil Nadu captain.

Balaji, who is the first bowler to take a hat-trick in the IPL, said the team should regroup and start believing that they can win the remaining games.

Chennai Super Kings have lost all of their three matches so far | ASHWIN PRASATH

"The team management should talk and tell the players that it is a long tournament (14 matches). There is a chance, we have lost three, there are still 11 more to go. You have to know exactly when to press the right button. They (team think tank) should discuss how to pick up the 11 opportunities in your favour."

CSK openers Sanju Samson and Gaikwad have not clicked, while Ayush Mhatre has got some runs at No 3. Should Ayush open? "The top three positions in the batting order are crucial. You cannot make a change just for the heck of it. It has to have clarity, it has to have a sense of direction. The batting is not an issue at the moment, they have crossed 200 plus in two out of the three matches. Both Sanju and Ruturaj are experienced, they know the job. So I believe they are just one game away from playing a big innings."

Balaji opined that Dewald Brevis should be brought in for their next match against Delhi Capitals scheduled on Saturday. "It's good if he (Brevis) plays. At the moment, the top order is not clicking. So when Brevis comes in, one can expect at least two from the top four to score runs," explained Balaji.

A few teams like Sunrisers Hyderabad started the proceedings with spinners and Balaji said CSK should replace a pacer with West Indies' left-arm finger spinner Akeal Hosein. "I would want Akeal Hosein in the team. There is no way you have four medium pacer in your lineup. You can replace one of them with Akeal. Either Jamie Overton or Matt Henry can make way for him," he said.

BATTLE OF EQUALS

Two of the in-form sides so far — Rajasthan Royals and Royal Challengers Bengaluru — will take on each other in Guwahati on Friday. A look...

RR OPENERS ON SONG

After sending Jasprit Bumrah to the cleaners in Rajasthan's emphatic win against Mumbai, 15-year-old Vaibhav Sooryavanshi's stocks surged even higher. Yashasvi Jaiswal too has shown that he can equally be explosive.

RCB'S STRONG BATTING

Like Rajasthan, Bengaluru also have some artillery in their batting arsenal. Coming fresh off an unbeaten 25-ball 70 against Chennai, Australian Tim David will be hoping to give solidity in the middle.

Prabhsimran aims for more

CHANDRA PRABHU @ Chennai

PRABHSIMRAN Singh of Punjab Kings is regarded as one of the dangerous opening batters of the Indian Premier League (IPL). He, along with Priyansh Arya, have provided the team with explosive starts on numerous occasions. The 25-year-old wicketkeeper-batter, with his aggressive approach, scored 549 runs with a strike rate of 160.52 last season. Despite falling at the final hurdle with PBKS that season, Prabhsimran's numbers highlighted his significant growth. Coming into this season, he is keen on developing in many ways as a cricketer.

While he remains keen on sticking with the high-risk, high-reward approach, as teams breeze past the 200-run mark, Prabhsimran believes that he needs to stay longer in the crease. "Earlier, I used to get out in the 30s or 40s, so now I look to play longer innings.

PBKS' Prabhsimran Singh with head coach Ricky Ponting | PBKS

And mainly, as we discuss in team meetings too, it doesn't matter to us whether we have to go for the Orange Cap or the Purple Cap. The goal is to create enough impact so you can easily win matches for your team," Prabhsimran said in a virtual interaction facilitated by the franchise.

In Punjab Kings' second game of this season, where they played Chennai Super Kings at Chepauk, he played a measured knock. In the chase of 210, he saw his partner Priyansh take the initiative. Soon after Priyansh's dismissal, Prabhsimran did his bit, but also ensured he stayed at the crease. However, he was run out for 43 runs off 34 balls.

One of the downsides in the high-risk approach Prabhsimran takes is the early dismissals. His senior teammate and all-rounder Shashank Singh had said before the season that Prabhsimran is 'maturing day by day.'

In fact, after IPL 2025, Prabhsimran was given the opportunity to lead Punjab in the 2025 Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy. Out of the ten games Punjab played, Prabhsimran led the side in four matches. "I am getting used to the captain's role and I enjoy it. I take it as a challenge. So you can say that it is much better for me to help grow my game as well," he said.

Mess in middle overs hurting KKR

ENS @ Chennai

BE it their IPL 2026 opener against Mumbai Indians or the second match against Sunrisers Hyderabad, Kolkata Knight Riders got flying starts on both occasions but squandered the advantage in the middle overs to end up on the losing side.

The story was no different when they were asked to bat by Lucknow Super Giants at the Eden Gardens on Thursday. They lost Finn Allen early but captain Ajinkya Rahane along with Angkrish Raghuvanshi added 84 runs to help them not only recover but also score quick runs. They were 98/1 in 10 overs but from thereon they slowed down. The team could manage just 17 runs between 11 and 15 overs.

Cameron Green and Rovman Powell then added 66 runs in the last five overs as the hosts posted 181/4 in 20 overs. Later, LSG's Mukul Choudhary played a blinder of an inning to guide his side to a three-wicket win.

Brief scores: KKR 181/4 in 20 ovs (Raghuvanshi 45) lost to LSG 182/7 in 20 ovs (Mukul 54 n.o, Badoni 54; Arora 2/38).

Vaishali grabs sole lead with 4 rounds to go

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Bengaluru

R VAISHALI, who had a slow start to the Candidates, is now the sole leader of the tournament. On a day when R Praggnanandhaa's hopes effectively ended with a loss to Javokhir Sindarov in the Open section, Vaishali's hopes soared.She was the joint leader coming into the 10th round. When it ended in Cyprus on Thursday, the Indian, thanks to her draw, led the field by 0.5 as Zhu Jiner lost to Bibisara Assaubayeva. Vaishali, playing with the black pieces against Anna Muzychuk, played a rock solid game and didn't give the Ukrainian as much as a sniff.

In a gruelling tournament like the Candidates, it's considered important to go into rest day in a good frame of mind. She has certainly managed to do that before the final rounds begin with a game against Aleksandra Goryachkina on Saturday. The Russian had taken down Divya Deshmukh. While Vaishali is the sole leader with six, 1.5 points separates six players so it's still all to play for.

Results: Open (Rd 10): J Sindarov bt R Praggnanandhaa, A Giri drew with H Nakamura, A Esipenko drew with M Bluebaum, W Yi drew with F Caruana. Women: A Muzychuk drew with R Vaishali, B Assaubayeva bt Z Jiner, A Goryachkina bt Divya D, K Lagno drew with T Zhongyi.

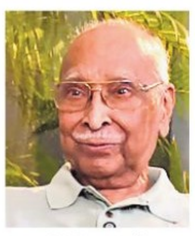
Gopinath, last survivor of India's first Test win, dies

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

CD Gopinath — the last surviving member, who was part of India's first ever Test win — passed away at the age of 96 here on Thursday. He was part of the Indian team that defeated England for their first-ever Test victory in 1952. Until his death, Gopinath was the oldest living Indian Test cricketer and the second oldest in the world after Australia's Neil Harvey, who is 97. Gopinath played eight Tests and scored 242 runs, including a fifty.



CD Gopinath

In his Test debut against England in 1951, Gopinath, batting at number eight, made 50 in his first innings and followed with 42 in the second innings at the Brabourne Stadium. The fifth Test of his debut series was a landmark moment in Indian cricket. It was when India registered their first Test win, by an innings and eight runs in Chennai. Gopinath made 35 in his only innings in that match.

Former India captain K Srikkanth lauded Gopinath for being a class cricketer and a good human being. The Tamil Nadu Cricket Association mourned the passing of Gopinath.

Ayush stands tall; Sindhu & Prannoy crash out

SAPTARSHI C @ Bengaluru

WHILE the seasoned names faltered under pressure at the Badminton Asia Championship, China, the 20-year-old Ayush Shetty refused to let the ship sink, holding firm with grit and composure. Blending class with consistency, Shetty emerged as the lone spark in an otherwise fading campaign, carrying India's hopes on young shoulders.

Shetty turned the court into a pressure chamber, forcing Chi Yu Jen into a slow, suffocating collapse, sealing it 21-16, 21-12. With a relentless mix of flat lifts, sharp drives, and thunderous smashes, he dictated the tempo from the outset.

Ayush Shetty

"I can beat any top-20 player any day," he said. It sounded bold, but in China, Shetty is turning it into a statement. He has already toppled World No7 Li Shi Feng and outplayed World No 20 Chi, showcasing composure beyond his years. The next hurdle is massive - World No 4 Jonatan Christie. If he clears it, which is also a quarterfinal, the Leo Messi fan will redefine his career trajectory.

Chi, pushed onto the back foot, resorted to safer returns in the second set - but that only played into Ayush's hands. The Indian shuttler owned the rallies, slicing the net with precision and hammering winners onto the sidelines with ruthless accuracy. There were brief flashes of frustration with line calls, but Shetty was in complete control, and Chi simply ran out of answers. Meanwhile, HS Prannoy, 33-year-old, bowed out, losing 12-21, 19-21 to Weng Hongyang.

In the women's singles, PV Sindhu saw her campaign come to an end in the second round. Facing World No 2 Wang Zhi Yi, the Olympic medallist, went down 21-18, 21-8 in a 46-minute contest. Despite trailing 14-9 early in the opening game, Sindhu showed resilience against the home favourite, mounting a brief comeback to narrow the gap to 18-19 before the momentum slipped away.

Also, Unnati Hooda saw her run end, going down 17-21, 9-21 to Tomoka Miyazaki. Hooda looked drained, struggling to cope with Miyazaki's sharp cross-court angles during the second set. Her responses grew slower, her movement laboured, and the match slipped away.

Dominant PSG outplay Liverpool to take two-goal lead

AGENCIES @ Paris

DESIRE Doue and Khvicha Kvaratskhelia scored the goals to give a dominant Paris Saint-Germain a 2-0 win over Liverpool in their Champions League quarterfinal first leg on Wednesday, as the holders seized a clear advantage to take to Anfield for next week's return. Doue's shot in the 11th minute looped over goalkeeper Giorgi Mamardashvili and in thanks to a big touch off Ryan Gravenberch, and Kvaratskhelia then rounded his compatriot to double PSG's lead 65 minutes into a game they bossed from start to finish.

It only remains to be seen whether the reigning European champions might regret not scoring more goals against a Liverpool side who lined up with three centre-backs and were run ragged. "I think we had chances to score more. There were many moments where we should score but it is OK," Kvaratskhelia told broadcaster Canal Plus. "I think 2-0 is good but we have to stay focused because we have to play at Anfield. We know that the atmosphere will be amazing so we are already starting to prepare that game."

Atletico punish 10-man Barca

BARCELONA: Julian Alvarez and Alexander Sorloth's goals earned Atletico Madrid a commanding 2-0 lead over 10-man Barcelona in the other quarter-final first leg clash.

The La Liga leaders were on top in the all-Spanish tie at Camp Nou before Pau Cubarsi was sent off for bringing down Atletico's Giuliano Simeone, who was through on goal.

Alvarez whipped home the resulting free-kick and Sorloth doubled their advantage with 20 minutes remaining to give Atletico a strong chance of reaching the semifinals.

AI models cross 10 mn downloads in 1st week

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

GOOGLE'S latest open artificial intelligence model, Gemma 4, has crossed more than 10 million downloads within a week of its launch, according to CEO Sundar Pichai. Pichai, while sharing the update on social media platform X, said that the overall downloads of Gemma models have now crossed 500 million, showing strong interest from developers and researchers worldwide.

"Lots of love for Gemma 4! Team just told me it's already had 10M+ downloads since last week's launch. Gemma models have now been downloaded 500M+ times! Excited to see what you all are creating," Pichai wrote.

What is Gemma 4?

Gemma 4 is developed by Google DeepMind and is part of a family of generative AI models. It is built using the same research and technology that powers Gemini, making it one of the most advanced open models released by Google so far. These models can perform a wide range of tasks such as answering questions, summarising text, and logical reasoning. The company has made Gemma models available with open weights, which means developers can customise and use them for commercial applications responsibly.

Key Features

Gemma 4 comes with several advanced capabilities. It is designed to handle complex reasoning tasks with flexible thinking modes, making it useful for problem-solving and analysis.

The model also supports multiple types of data, including text and images across all versions, while some versions can additionally process video and audio. It offers larger context windows, which means it can understand and work with longer inputs and conversations more effectively. The model also shows improved performance in coding tasks and supports building AI agents with function-calling features. In addition, it includes native system prompt support, which helps developers create more structured and controlled interactions.

Memory and Usage Considerations

Running these models requires significant GPU or TPU memory, especially for larger versions. Memory use also increases depending on the length of the input (context window) and whether the model is being fine-tuned.

Overall, Gemma 4 aims to provide flexible and powerful AI tools for developers, while balancing performance and efficiency for different use cases.
